PROCLAMATION OF GOV. CURTIN.

HARRISBURGH, Monday, June 15.

The following Proclamation has just been issued by the Governor of Pennsylvania:

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the said Commonwealth:

A PROCLAMATION.

The State of Pennsylvania is again threatened with invasion, and an army of rebels is approaching our borders. The President of the United States has issued his Proclamation calling upon the State for fifty thousand men. I now appeal to all the citizens of Pennsylvania who love Liberty and are mindful of the history and traditions of their Revolutionary fathers, and who feel that it is a sacred duty to guard and maintain the free institutions of our country, who hate treason and its abettors, and who are willing to defend their homes and firesides, and do invoke them to rise in their might and rush to the rescue in this hour of imminent peril. The issue is one of preservation or destruction. It involves considerations paramount to all matters of mere expediency and all questions of local interest. All ties, social and political, all ties of a personal and partizan character, sink by comparison into insignificance. It is now to be determined by deeds, and not by words alone, who are for us and who are against us. That it is the purpose of the enemy to invade our borders with all the strength he can command is now apparent. Our only defence rests upon the determined action of the citizens of our free Commonwealth.

I therefore call upon the people of Pennsylvania, capable of bearing arms, to enroll themselves in military organizations and to encourage all other to give aid and assistance to the efforts which will be put forth for the protection of the State and the salvation of our common country.

A DISPATCH FROM GOV. CURTIN.

Mr. G. Thomas, Philadelphia:

The President calls for a hundred thousand men, for a term not exceeding six months. All men so raised are to be credited to the draft.

Gen. LEE's army is approaching in force.

We must have men immediately to check him.

Can you not raise a force at once?

The men are to be equipped and paid by the United States. A. G. CURTIN.

PROCLAMATION BY GOV. TOD.

CINCINNATI, Monday, June 15.

Gov. TOD has issued a proclamation calling out 30,000 volunteers for the defence of the Border.

TROOPS FROM MASSACHUSETTS.

THE LATEST BALTIMORE TELEGRAM.

BALTIMORE, Monday, June 15.

Gen. MILROY was surrounded at Winchester by 18,000 rebels; but, after a desperate fight, he cut his way through, and united with our forces at Harper's Ferry.

Our force at Martinsburgh has also fallen back on Harper's Ferry.

BALTIMORE, Monday, June 15.

The American's special report from Harper's Ferry, says that Gen. MILROY succeeded in cutting his way through the rebel lines, and reached there this forenoon, after evacuating Winchester.

The fighting was very desperate and we repulsed the rebels repeatedly with heavy loss, but finally they were largely reinforced and Gen. MILROY made his arrangements Sunday to abandon Winchester, finding that the rebels were endeavoring to closely invest the place.

He lost considerably—some 2,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners.

Military movements are in progress to check the rebel movement in this direction, which it would not be proper to particularize.

THE LATEST CHAMBERSBURGH TELEGRAMS.

CHAMBERSBURGH, Monday June 15.

Lieut. PALMER, just returned from Greencastle, had to fight his way out two miles this side of that place. He reports that the enemy are advancing in three columns. One toward Waynesboro and Gettysburgh, one direct to Chambersburgh and one toward Mercersburgh and Cool Mountains. It is not known whether they will proceed in short columns or concentrate.

A large force is seen in the direction of Greencastle now. PALMER reports the column at Greencastle about 5,000 strong, principally cavalry, supported by infantry and artillery.

THE LATEST HARRISBURGH TELEGRAMS.

HARRISBURGH, Sunday, June 14.

Dispatches received to-day from the operators at Chambersburgh and Hagerstown give the information of negroes who have arrived there, to the effect that the rebel cavalry arrived at Perrysville and Martinsburgh about noon, and at the latter place there had been considerable hard fighting.

Gen. MILROY was contesting the advance of the rebels.

Telegraph communication is destroyed between Winchester and Martinsburgh. The lines having been broken by the rebels about 11 o'clock this morning.

Gen. REYNOLDS has been driven by a large force of the rebels from Perrysville to Bunker Hill.

The enemy are also at Winchester.

All Gen. LEE's army is moving.

The tidings from Muddy Branch and Nolan's Ferry indicate that warm work has been going on there.

The Capital and principal cities and towns of Pennsylvania, are in absolute danger.

The Governor will issue another call to-morrow.

The people of this State must respond if they do not want to experience all the ravages and horrors of war.

As there is some objection to the present plan of operations, by the instructions of the Governor, Col. SCOTT started for Washington on a special train this evening, to urge upon the National authorities such a modification of the plan as will suit the views of the people.

To this proposition no reply can be obtained as yet. The Government will no doubt accede to it.

The indications are that the capitalists will advance the money to pay the military, trusting to the General Government for reimbursement.

A meeting of the moneyed corporations of the State will be held to-morrow morning, to take into consideration the present startling aspect of affairs.

Gov. CURTIN will telegraph to Mayor HENRY, of Philadelphia, full news up to that hour.

The convalescent soldiers here and in the interior of the State, are being organized, armed and sent here.

Of the measures of defence I am not permitted to speak.

Every arrangement for the quick transportation of troops to this point has been completed under the direction of Gen. COUCH.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

HARRISBURGH, Pa., Monday, June 15.

Communication with Chambersburgh is just broken. The Governor would be glad to have aid from New-York.

Danger is imminent.

HARRISBURGH, Monday, June 15.

THE LATEST PHILADELPHIA TELEGRAMS.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 15.

A dispatch from Greencastle, Pennsylvania, dated at 10½ o'clock this morning, reports as follows:

"Our troops are now passing here in retreat from Hagerstown to Chambersburgh.

Hagerstown has been evacuated.

All the rolling stock of the railroad and all the stores have been removed.

Rumor fixes the rebel force at 10,000, but this is probably an exaggeration."

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 15.

The Evening Bulletin publishes the following news from dispatches received at the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's office:

"A dispatch received to-day from Bolton Station, on the Northern Central Railroad, says that Gen. TYLER had retreated from Martinsburgh at 8 o'clock last evening; that our force at Winchester had probably been captured yesterday, as the enemy are in force, probably 10,000 strong, at Hagerstown.

The dispatch adds that the danger is great, as the enemy is advancing in heavy force.

A private dispatch from a trustworthy source states that the rebels appeared near Chambersburgh this morning, and that it is probable that the place has already been occupied by them.

THE EXCITEMENT IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 15.

The movements of the rebels on the borders of the State caused much excitement at the Corn Exchange this morning, and trade was partially suspended.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, June 15.

The principal citizens of this city have telegraphed to Gen. GEORGE CADWALLADER, now at Washington, asking him to obtain authority to repair immediately to Philadelphia, and organize the troops, his petitioners regarding him as a man fit for the crisis.

IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER REPORTS.

Advance of Ewell's Corps, of Lee's Army, Up the Shenandoah Valley.

A Desperate Battle at Winchester on Saturday.

The Rebels Repulsed with Great Slaughter by Gen. Milroy.

THE BATTLE RENEWED ON SUNDAY.

Advance of the Rebels Against Other Points.

From the Baltimore Sun of Yesterday.

For several days past, various rumors have been in circulation in relation to alleged movements of the Confederate army in Virginia. By information received from the military authorities of this Department, we are enabled to give the following highly important particulars:

On Friday, it was ascertained that a large body of Confederates were moving up the Shenandoah Valley, on the Strasburgh Pike-road, and from other directions. Every preparation was made by Maj.-Gen. SCHENCK to meet them. Gen. MILROY's pickets, a few miles from Winchester, encountered them on Saturday morning, and later in the day a general engagement took place between Gen. MILROY's forces at and near Winchester and the Confederates. The latter were repulsed in this engagement, losing a number of prisoners. Their loss in killed and wounded was said to be severe.

From the prisoners taken it was ascertained that the force attacking Gen. MILROY was Lieutenant-General EWELL's corps, variously estimated at from ten to eighteen thousand men.

The battle was renewed on Saturday afternoon, and again yesterday, and was in progress at last advices. Gen. MILROY's command is estimated at about 10,000. He has telegraphed Major-Gen. SCHENCK that he can hold out until reinforcements can reach him.

On Saturday afternoon Col. MCREYNOLD's, with a force of 3,000 men, stationed at Berryville, (between Harper's Ferry and Winchester, about eight miles south of the Winchester road,) was also attacked by a body of Confederates. The fight was said to be a very severe one.

Subsequently Col. MCREYNOLDS renewed the engagement, and at a late hour yesterday evening it was thought by the military authorities that he had succeeded in cutting his way through to reinforce Gen. MILROY, who was still fighting near Winchester.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a body of Confederates, said to number from three to five thousand, appeared in the vicinity of Martinsburgh, and demanded the surrender of that place. This force, it was thought, was a portion of the Confederates who had attacked Gen. MILROY's command.

Brig.-Gen. DANIEL TYLER, in command of the Federal forces at Martinsburgh, declined to surrender, and at 7 o'clock last evening a severe engagement was progressing.

The Thirteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, and Eighty-seventh Pennsylvania infantry, with one section of artillery, had a skirmish with some four hundred Confederate cavalry on Friday afternoon, near Middletown, Va. The Thirteenth skirmished with the rebels a short time, and drew them into an ambuscade of the Eighty-seventh and the artillery. Eight of the Confederates were killed, a number wounded, and thirty-seven, including a Captain and two Lieutenants, taken prisoners.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was, at last accounts, uninjured. The freight and passenger trains, both West and East, passed safely through on Saturday. A large number of freight trains arrived at Mount Clare depot, yesterday, from Mount Airy. They contained a large quantity of freight from the Ohio country, which had been detained by the late raids on the western end of the roads.

The freight and passenger trains on the main stem, between here and Cumberland, will be suspended until the military troubles on or near the road are over. The Harper's Ferry and Frederick trains will still continue.

Major General SCHENCK, assisted by Col. DON PIATT and Col. CHESEBOROUGH, and the other members of his staff, have been, since Friday evening, assiduous in their labors, being at their posts almost incessantly day and night.

LATEST.

Up to the hour of going to press, nothing later was received from Gen. MILROY's or Col. MCREYNOLD's commands. The telegraph wires between Harper's Ferry and Martinsburgh having been cut about 7 o'clock last evening, nothing later was received as to the state of affairs at that point.

A dispatch received about 10½ o'clock last night from Harper's Ferry, reports that Col. COLE's Federal cavalry had fallen back from Kearneysville to Duffield's depot, the latter place being a few miles from Harper's Ferry, on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. They do not report anything new from Martinsburgh, except that heavy firing was heard in that direction.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have succeeded in saving all their engines and cars, and also in getting many of them on this end of the road.

At 11 o'clock last night a special car and engine arrived here from Philadelphia, via the Philadelphia and Wilmington Road, in which was a bearer of important dispatches for the Government. Mr. SMITH, master of transportation of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, supplied the important personage with a special car and engine, and at 11½ o'clock he was on his way to Washington. It was stated that his dispatches were of the most important character, but their nature or the name of the bearer did not transpire.

From the Baltimore American of yesterday.

Our city, yesterday, was filled with flying rumors in reference to the movements of the rebels in the Shenandoah Valley, and the most extravagant reports were circulated as to the presence of Gen. LEE there, with his entire army, en route for Maryland and Pennsylvania. The most reliable information we have been able to obtain is to the following effect:

An attack was made on Saturday morning on a small force of our men at Berryville under Gen. MCREYNOLDS, of which the First Maryland battery formed a part. They fell back before superior numbers, and joined Gen. MILROY at Winchester, after a sharp engagement, of which the results are at present unknown. At the same time Winchester was attacked in front (from the south,) by a force reported to be under command of Gen. EWELL, the successor of Stonewall JACKSON. The troops that made the attack at Berryville are reported to be under command of Gen. TRIMBLE.

A third force, after this encounter, are said to have captured a detachment of our men at Bunker Hill, and then moved on Martinsburgh. At 4 P. M., yesterday, they demanded the surrender of Martinsburgh, giving forty-five minutes for the women and children to leave town. Gen. TYLER, who commands at Martinsburgh, refused to surrender, and an artillery fight ensued. At 7½ o'clock last night the wires were broken between Harper's Ferry and Martinsburgh, and what occurred after that is not known.

A battle was also in progress at Winchester yesterday, the result of which is unknown. Gen. MILROY repulsed EWELL on Saturday, and said he could hold out until reinforcements reached him. If unable to sustain his position, he would have to fall back on the line to Romney, as the Harper's Ferry and Martinsburgh roads are held by the enemy. The estimates of the rebel force in the Valley are so wide apart that they form no reliable data for any conclusion.

No danger was done to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as far as known. No cars or locomotives on the line are exposed to capture. Orders were sent to exposed points yesterday, and no less than 70 locomotives and some 1,200 cars were brought to Baltimore in safety. As a precautionary measure, no trains will be run beyond Harper's Ferry for the present.

From the Baltimore Gazette.

From the military authorities of this Department, we have received such information as enables us to lay before our readers the following facts, in regard to the movements of the Confederates in the Shenandoah valley, the battles fought there within the last three days, and of the engagements still in progress:

The Confederates made their appearance, in strong force, in the neighborhood of Winchester on Friday evening, but no engagement took place until Saturday. A most sanguinary battle is said to have taken place on that day, in which the Confederates were repulsed. Gen. MILROY succeeded in capturing quite a number of prisoners. The Confederates are also said to have lost heavily in killed and wounded.

The battle was renewed on Saturday night, and was still in progress at last accounts yesterday morning, but with what result was not stated. Gen. MILROY telegraphed that he could hold out until reinforcements could reach him.

From the prisoners captured he had ascertained that the Confederates attacking him were commanded by Lieut.-Gen. EWELL. Their numbers were variously estimated at from ten to eighteen thousand. The command under Gen. MILROY numbers about ten thousand.

On Saturday evening, Col. MCREYNOLDS, with 3,000 Federal troops, had a severe fight at Berryville with a much larger body of Confederates. The results were not known. At the last accounts, the authorities had reason to believe that Col. MCREYNOLDS had succeeded in cutting his way through to Winchester to reinforce Gen. MILROY.

A body of Confederates, supposed to be about 5,000 strong, had also passed around Winchester, and yesterday made their appearance at Martinsburgh. They demanded the surrender of the place. Brig.-Gen. DANIEL TYLER, in command, refused to comply, and an engagement at once took place, which was still going on at 6½ o'clock last evening.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have succeeded in saving all their cars and engines. The freight and passenger business between here and the West will be temporarily suspended. The trains between here, Harper's Ferry and Frederick will run as usual.

LATEST.

The telegraph wires between Martinsburgh and Harper's Ferry having been cut by the Confederates at an early hour last evening, up to the hour of going to press nothing later had been received as to the result of the fight there.

A dispatch received at 10½ o'clock last night, from Harper's Ferry, reports that Col. COLE's Federal cavalry had fallen back from Kearneysville to Duffield, (both places on the line of the road, between the Ferry and Martinsburgh.) They report nothing from Martinsburgh. Nothing later was received, either from Gen. MILROY or Col. MCREYNOLDS, or the results of the battles fought by them.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Monday, June 15.

The interest in Stuart's cavalry operations up the Shenandoah Valley has been absorbing here to-day. Nothing else has been talked of—but little else thought of. The heat has been awful, and Washington has sought its aliment of news literally in a furnace.

An exchanged officer of the Indianola, arrived to-night from Richmond, says that the window of his room in the Libby Prison commanded a view of the James River Bridges, and that in the last two weeks the trains which crossed them have carried daily from 2,000 to 3,000 troops to reinforce LEE. He also gives the number of STUART's cavalry and a large force of mounted infantry. He has organized 30,000 in all.

All the sick, wounded and disabled soldiers at Falmouth and vicinity, numbering about 8,000, have been removed to the Washington Hospitals.

Sale of Cotton.

CINCINNATI, Monday, June 15.

Two hundred and seventy-three bales of confiscated Cotton were sold at auction to-day. The prices ranged from 30½c.@45½c. ℔ lb. The quality was generally inferior.

THE GREAT CAVALRY FIGHT.

The Fight at Stevensburgh—Part Taken by the Second Division, Col. Duffie—Additional Lists of Killed and Wounded—Total Loss One Thousand—Twelve Hundred Horses Killed.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RAPPAHANNOCK RIVER, Wednesday, June 10, 1863.

An account of the part taken in the cavalry fight of the 9th of June by the Second division will complete the history of that memorable day. This division was composed of two brigades—the First embracing the First Massachusetts cavalry, Lieut.-Col. CURTIS; Sixth Ohio cavalry, Maj. STEDMAN, and the First Rhode Island cavalry, Lieut.-Col. THOMPSON; Fourth New-York cavalry, Lieut.-Col. PRUYN—under the command of Col. DI CESNOLA. The Fourth New-York, however, was detached on picket duty on the left bank of the Rappahannock. The Second brigade consisted of the Third, Fourth and Sixteenth regiments Pennsylvania cavalry, commanded by Col. GREGG. Attached to the command was PENNINGTON's battery. This division was the first to cross at Kelly's Ford on Tuesday morning, and was ordered at once on the road toward Stevensburgh, to cover the left flank of that portion of Gen. GREGG's command which advanced toward Brandy Station, and was to have united with that portion of the command at the latter place. Circumstances, however, prevented the consummation of this movement. Col. DUFFIE moved his force forward in readiness for action, the First brigade in advance—the First Rhode Island regiment on the right, the First Massachusetts on the left, and the Sixth Ohio in the centre. Soon after starting off upon the Culpepper road, Col. DUFFIE directed Maj. STANHOPE, of the Sixth Ohio, to advance upon Stevensburgh with one squadron, and feel the enemy. The order was promptly obeyed. The first seen of the enemy was in the village of Stevensburgh, where they had a picket. Seven of this picket, the commanding officer, a Lieutenant and four citizens, were captured. Another picket was discovered beyond the town toward Culpepper, and in the course of half an hour a force of about three hundred rebel cavalry advanced upon the town, when Maj. STANHOPE gradually fell back about one mile, and, finding a favorable position, made a stand, and awaited the approach of reinforcements. The enemy moved to the right and left, with a view to cutting off this force, when the Major fell back about two miles, closely pursued by the enemy, who were quite boisterous over what they seemed to consider a grand success. The second stand was maintained until reinforcements had come up, consisting of the balance of the Sixth Ohio regiment under Maj. STEDMAN. The Ohioans charged forward through the town, killing, wounding and making prisoners of rebels as they passed along. The other regiments of the same brigade charged up on either flank, and the Second brigade was held in reserve. A brief, sharp contest took place. Seventy-five or eighty prisoners were captured, and also an ambulance loaded with hospital stores. The wagon and contents were destroyed. Just before reaching the town the enemy, securing a favorable position, made a stand; but they were soon made to move on before an impetuous charge with drawn sabres, led by Capts. BARKET and BOWE. The troops encountered were detachments from a South Carolina, a North Carolina and the Fourth Virginia regiments. While engaged picking up prisoners about Stevensburgh, FITZHUGH LEE's brigade was seen approaching. Just at this moment an aid of Gen. GREGG arrived, with a peremptory order requiring Col. DUFFIE to move on Brandy Station, by the road he (Gen. GREGG) had passed over. The order was reluctantly obeyed. The troops fell back in good order, the enemy keeping at a respectable distance. In this short but brilliant affair, our loss was 5 men killed, 11 men wounded, 85 horses killed or disabled; 75 prisoners were taken and forty horses were captured. The loss of the enemy is estimated at 75 men, killed and wounded—including among the former the Colonel of a South Carolina regiment. The enemy had a large number of horses killed.

Col. DI CESNOLA commanded the advance line of skirmishers, and, as usual, by his cool bravery, set an example to the whole command. Col. DUFFIE acted with coolness and judgment, and was ably seconded by Major STEDMAN and the other officers of the division.

Among the narrow escapes in this affair I have only room to record two. Sergt. NEWTON, of Company B, Sixth Ohio, had a ball enter his cartridge-box, by which several cartridges were exploded, destroying the box but he was not injured. ADELBERT MCEWEN, of Company K, same regiment, had a ball enter his cartridge-box without injury to himself.

I have already forwarded official reports of casualties in the division commanded by Gen. GREGG, and herewith will be found official reports of the losses in the other regiments of the cavalry corps engaged in the late fight on the south side of the Rappahannock, showing a total loss of about 1,000 men. Not less than 1,200 horses were killed or wounded.

The Difficulties in Indiana.

PROCLAMATION OF GOV. MORTON.

The proclamation lately issued by Gov. MORTON of Indiana, relative to resistance to the enrollment, cites the Congressional State laws against treason, and concludes thus:

"It will be my purpose in the future, as in the past, to do my whole duty to the Government of the United States and the people of Indiana. In the administration of the law, and the performance of official duties, I recognize no parties.

All who obey the laws, keep the peace, and discharge their duties as citizens, are alike entitled to and will receive protection in person and property. The alarm which some are attempting to create of the improper interference of the military authorities, may be dismissed as without foundation.

The right of the people peaceably to assemble and petition for a redress of grievances, and speak and publish their opinions touching the policy of the Government or the conduct of the war, must be respected, and the enjoyment of it protected. But there is a wide difference between the legitimate exercise of this right and that unbridled license of speech which seeks, by the assertion of the most atrocious falsehoods, to exasperate the people to madness, and drive them into a position of neutrality between their Government and the rebels, if not into the very arms of the rebellion, combine them in dangerous societies, provoke them to resist the laws, and thus contribute directly to weaken our own Government and strengthen the cause of the enemy.

The criticism of one who is friendly to the Government, and who is anxious that it shall succeed and be preserved, and who points out its errors in order that they may be corrected, is wholly different from that denunciation which seeks to bring the Government into contempt and render it odious to the people, thereby withdrawing from it its life, when struggling in battle with a powerful enemy. The one can never be mistaken for the other. It must be borne in mind that the exercise of the plainest rights and privileges may be greatly modified by surrounding circumstances; that what may be proper, or innocent and harmless at one time, may be dangerous and criminal at another.

To advocate the right of secession and rebellion, or the dissolution of our Government, might be harmless enough in time of profound peace, but when the country is engaged in desperate civil war, which is consuming the best blood and treasure of the nation, and the misfortune of arms might within a few days bring the enemy upon the soil of our State, will it be contended that the privilege of free speech gives the right to advocate the rebellion, resistance to our Government, or the abandonment of it to its enemies? That which is idle talk in time of peace may become "aid and comfort to the enemy," and punishable by the laws of the land when that enemy is at our doors.

Let me exhort the people to moderation and submission to the laws, and laying aside their resentments and prejudices, to take counsel only of their duties and the dangers which threaten the nation; and while I assure them that protection shall be extended to life, liberty and property, and that equal and exact justice shall be administered to all. I would impress them with the fact, that if needs be the whole power of the State and Nation will be invoked to execute the laws, preserve the public peace, and bring offenders to punishment.

OUR HAVANA CORRESPONDENCE.

No Fresh News from Mexico—Escape of Ortega—How Managed—Removal of the Government Archives to Morelia—The English Steamer Hero—Another Blockade Runner—The Brig Comet a Prize at Key West—H. B. M.'s Steamer Plover at Havana.

HAVANA, Wednesday, June 10, 1863.

I send this by the Roanoke, which leaves to-day at noon. We have been anxiously expecting the arrival of the Spanish merchant steamer Mexico from Sisal and Vera Cruz, which might probably bring us further news of the progress of the French in Mexico, but we have been disappointed; the Mexico has not yet arrived.

In the meantime, the daily papers of this city are engaged in a personal quarrel about Mexican affairs. The Siglo, which has all the time been an ardent partisan of the Mexican side, accuses the other two newspapers of the city, the Diario de la Marina and the Prensa, of unfairness, and the latter of cruelty toward the Mexicans in its editorial observations upon the war, as well as giving one-sided accounts of the events that take place. The Diario of to-day comes out with a reply.

ORTEGA and the other Generals and officers made their escape at Orizaba in the following manner: About a thousand prisoners were assembled there, consisting of the abovenamed Generals, officers and some civilians who had been most zealous in JUAREZ' favor, all of whom were to be taken to Vera Cruz for transportation to Martinique. The twenty-three Generals were together in a house, with sentries at the door, and on the night previous to the day appointed for the march they cut a passage through the back of the house, and Gen. ORTEGA with nine other Generals succeeded in making their escape. Of the thousand prisoners collected, it is said that at least five hundred got away.

By a decree of the French Military Commander at Vera Cruz, the Spanish twenty-cent piece is to be considered equal to three Mexican sixpences (medio real,) and the American dime to be equal to three Mexican cuartillas.

The Diario de la Marina gives an extract from a letter from Vera Cruz, in which it is stated that Gen. ORTEGA was not in want of ammunition at Puebla. When the French entered the town they not only found untouched the greater part of the arms and equipments of the soldiers and the artillery, but there were also in different storehouses about 125,000 artillery cartridges, suitable for guns of different calibre.

The same letter mentions that President JUAREZ had ordered the archives of the Government to be transferred to Morelia, and that he himself would shortly leave the capital for that place. It also adds that Congress and the Liberals placed no confidence in him and several of his Generals, particularly in ORTEGA and COMONFORT.

The English steamer Hero, which was taken by the United States steamer Juniata, on her voyage from this port to run the blockade, has, I understand, been declared a lawful prize by the Court at Key West. The owners and shippers are making a great fuss at what they call the injustice done them, declaring that the vessel was bound to Matamoras, or at least had papers on board purporting that to be her destination; but she was no doubt intended to run the blockade. They complain that the vessel has been condemned on the sole testimony of a single individual on board, a sailor to whom there had been given a free passage, and who swore before the Court that he had been promised a passage to Mobile. This, they say, was the only testimony produced against them, but doubtless something more came out before the Court, although they will not confess it here. The steamer and cargo are valued here at $25,000.

We are likewise told that another blockade runner, the English brig Comet, is lying at Key West to be adjudicated upon. This vessel cleared from here at the end of last April ostensibly for New-Orleans. Being, as her name would indicate, rather eccentric in her movements, she managed to get somewhere about Mobile, where she was picked up by a United States cruiser. The excuse for having wandered so far out of her course is that she had, during the whole voyage, contrary winds, and at last found themselves about sixty miles from the entrance to the port of Mobile, in the midst of a calm, which lasted for some days, when the vessel was captured by a United States cruiser. They declare here that she was regularly cleared, and are very indignant at the audacity of the Yankee navy.

Her British Majesty's steamer Plover arrived here on the 6th inst. from Jamaica.

Important Case Against the City.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Before Judge Shipman.

William P. Sheffield vs. The Mayor, &c., of the City of New-York.—This action is brought to recover $25,000 damages occasioned to the plaintiff, who is a resident of Newport, R. I., for injuries occasioned to him, as he alleges, by falling over the stump of a tree which the defendants left sticking up out of the sidewalk at the lower end of the City Hall Park. It involves some interesting questions of law, as will be seen. The case, which has been on trial for two days, was submitted to the jury this afternoon, under the following charge from the Judge:

CHARGE.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: This is an action brought by the plaintiffs against the defendants, for alleged negligence in not keeping that part of the sidewalk on the north side of Park-row, near where it intersects Broadway, in a safe condition for public travel, by reason of which, the plaintiff alleges, he fell on the 16th of December, 1859, and suffered a very severe injury. The particular negligence claimed to be shown by the evidence, consists in allowing a stump of a tree, about six inches in height, to remain projecting above the sidewalk, against which the plaintiff alleges he struck his foot, and fell to the pavement, by which his thigh-bone was broken, a part of it forced through the flesh, and from the consequences of which he suffered a long, dangerous and painful illness, was rendered unable to pursue his ordinary business for nearly two years, expended large sums in medical attendance and nursing, and has been rendered lame for life.

It appears from the evidence, and is not denied, that Park-Row is an old street, and has long been open and used as a place of public travel, both for vehicles and foot passengers, and there can be no doubt that the defendants are bound by law to keep it in such a condition that it can be safely traveled, and this duty extends to the sidewalks devoted to the use of foot passengers, as well as to that part of the street used by carriages. The defendants have been shown to be in the possession of ample powers and means to perform this duty imposed upon them by law, and they must be held accountable for their negligent omission to perform it, and are liable in damages to those who may suffer by such neglect, provided the latter are guilty of no negligence which materially contributes to the accident by which they suffer.

It appears from the evidence that in November, 1847, the Common Council of the City passed an ordinance or resolution in the following words:

Resolved, That the Committee on Lands and Places, together with the Street Commissioner, be authorized to adjust the lower corner line of the Park, so as to make a curve, instead of corners and angles, from Broadway to Chatham-street, and place the railing on the line of such curve.

This resolution was approved by the Mayor.

The then Street Commissioner has been on the stand, and testified that, on being duly notified by the Clerk of the Common Council, he consulted with several of the committee named in the ordinance or resolution, and, with their approval, proceeded to make the alteration required, and, by so doing, shortened the end of the Park in the vicinity of the accident in question, and widened Park-row at this point, throwing about twenty feet of the Park into the street and removing the sidewalk north, so that the same has ever since run along the north side of this twenty feet taken off from the Park. The effect of this was to widen the street known as Park-row at this point, the sidewalk being removed further north, and running over ground which had been formerly included within the railing of the Park.

Two questions of law have been raised by the defendants on these facts:

1. That the defendants had no power to pass the ordinance in question, and consequently none to devote any part of the old Park to the uses of a public street, and they insist that they are not liable for any injury that may occur upon that portion of the street so taken from the Park.

Now, whether the claim that the ordinance in question is void for want of power in the City authorities to pass it, is a matter not material in the present case. Whether they had the legal right to devote any part of the Park to street purposes by curtailing its bounds, and widening the adjacent street or not, if they have assumed in point of fact to exercise that power, and have actually thrown it open to public travel as a public street, erected the sidewalk, and thus invited and permitted the public to use it as a common street for twelve years, their allegation now that they exceeded their authority in so doing cannot avail them in this action. They are equally liable for injuries occurring to travelers through their negligence on this, as on any other portion of the public streets.

2. The defendants insist that the Street Commissioner did not, in point of fact, execute the ordinance according to its terms, but threw into the street more land than was warranted by the ordinance itself.

The Street Commissioner, doubtless, carried out the ordinance as he understood it, and he has testified that he erected the sidewalk where it now lies, and that no objection was ever made to the manner in which he performed the work, or the place where he laid the walk, but that it has been used by the public for travel, as he laid it ever since.

Now, if the jury believe these facts, which do not seem to be met by counter-evidence, they have a right to presume that the defendants have acquiesced in the action of the Commissioner, and have recognised and treated this portion of what was formerly included in the Park, as a part of the public street, and if the defendants have so acquiesced in the doings of their Street Commissioner, and have thus recognized and treated the premises as part of the public street, then they are liable to the defendant, if he has made out the fact of negligence and damages suffered by him in consequence of such negligence, without fault on his part.

In order to find for the plaintiff, you must be satisfied from the evidence that the defendants were guilty of negligence, and that the injury to the plaintiff was caused by such negligence. The burden of proof is on the plaintiff to show this. You have heard the evidence as to the existence, location, height and size of the stump, and the statement of the defendant, that he struck his foot against an obstruction, which he has no doubt was the stump in question. I trust the jury will have no difficulty in coming to a correct conclusion as to whether such an obstruction projecting from the sidewalk in a crowded thoroughfare in this City is evidence of negligence or not, especially in the absence of any evidence that a light was placed immediately over it, or other especial warning of its existence given to passers after dark.

If you find that the defendants were guilty of negligence in thus leaving this stump there, under all the circumstances, you will then inquire if the injury which the plaintiff suffered was caused by the obstruction in question. If you find both of these facts also, you will find a verdict for the plaintiff, unless you find that he was guilty of negligence which materially contributed to the accident. If the plaintiff was guilty of such negligence as materially contributed to the accident, then he cannot recover. It is for the jury to say whether there is any evidence of negligence on part of the plaintiff, and if so, to what weight it is entitled. The evidence on all these points is simple, plain and easily understood, and the jury can dispose of them without difficulty.

If you find for the plaintiff, you will, of course, assess the damages. You have heard the plaintiff's statement of the injuries which he received, and also the statement of the eminent surgeon who attended him through his long and painful illness during the 108 days which it is shown he was confined to his bed in this City. No repetition can add force to the evidence on this point. If you believe the statements of Dr. Carnochan and the plaintiff, you cannot fail to conclude that his injuries were exceedingly severe and painful, causing great suffering and loss of time and money to him. You have heard read also the deposition of Dr. King, of Newport, who testifies to the continuing illness of the plaintiff, and his sufferings there.

In estimating the damages in this case, it will be your duty to give the plaintiff, first, the amount of pecuniary loss which, by the evidence, he is proved to have sustained. This, of course, consists of the moneys necessarily paid out by him for nursing, care and medical attendance in consequence of the injury which he received. He has stated to you that the amount thus necessarily paid out in New-York, while he was confined at the New-York Hotel, was about $2,400; that he paid out for the same kind of necessary expenses, after his return to Newport, the place of his residence, about $1,000 or $1,200 more. He further states that he is a lawyer by profession, and was in practice at the time the accident occurred; that his professional income was about $3,000 per annum, and that he lost nearly two years of professional labor and income in consequence of this painful accident. You will consider his evidence on this point, and give him such amount as you are satisfied he has necessarily paid out in money for the purposes already named, in consequence of his injuries, and also such sums as will compensate him for the loss of time necessarily resulting from the same cause.

2. If you find for the plaintiff, you will also award such a sum, in addition to the direct pecuniary loss already referred to, as will be a compensation, so far as money can compensate him, for the pain and anguish of body and mind which he suffered in consequence of the injury. As I have already stated, no repetition can add force to the narrative of the plaintiff and his surgeon, in regard to the sufferings which he underwent during his long confinement.

3. As a third and further ground of damage, in case you find for the plaintiff, you have a right to consider the permanent injury which has been inflicted on him if you believe it to be permanent, and of that there would seem to be no doubt on the evidence. He states his injured leg to be about 3½ inches shorter than the other. On this point you will consider only the damage which the plaintiff, in view of the evidence, will hereafter suffer, as a natural and necessary consequence of the permanent injury to his limb, when considered with reference to his business in life.

You will, gentlemen, take the whole case into consideration, and return such a verdict as you think the case fairly demands.

The case was given to the jury about 4 o'clock. They had not agreed up to 6 o'clock, and the Court ordered them to bring in a sealed verdict this morning.

For plaintiff, Mr. Burrell and Mr. Stoughton; for defendant, Mr. Hackett.

Disobedience to Harbor Master's Orders—Liability Therefor.

MARINE COURT.

Before Judge McCarthy.

Archibald Hall vs. Joseph Hall.—This was an action brought to recover $50—the penalty provided for by the Harbor Masters' Act of 1862, for a neglect or refusal to obey the order of Harbor Master.

The defendant was the mate of the bark Amelia. The plaintiff proved his case by JOHN L. TAYLOR, the Harbor Master, who gave the order to defendant to take the vessel out of the slip.

The defendant moved to dismiss the complaint upon the ground—

1st. That the defendant was not liable for refusing to obey a mere arbitrary order of a Harbor Master.

That the Harbor Master, to maintain the action, was bound to show that there was necessity for removing the vessel to accommodate some other vessel, whereas it did not appear by the evidence that any other vessel desired the berth occupied by the Amelia, or that the presence of the Amelia interfered with any other vessel.

That, under the act of 1862, it was the duty of the Harbor Master to give accommodation to all vessels, and that he had no power to order a vessel to leave one berth without designating at the time some other berth for her to occupy.

The Court held that inasmuch as it appeared that there was no necessity for the moving of the vessel, and that the Harbor Master ordered her to go out of the slip without giving her any other berth, the plaintiff could not enforce the penalty provided by the statute for a refusal to obey.

Complaint dismissed.

For plaintiff, Beebe, Dean & Donohue; for defendant, Benedict, Burr & Benedict.

Practice in Cases of Arrest.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Before Justices Sutherland, Ingraham and Mullen.

Stephen D. Baker vs. William L. Cook.—The defendant was arrested under an order granted in this action upon an affidavit duly signed and verified, by one of the plaintiffs—which affidavit was on file in the County Clerk's office. He moved on an order to show cause, to vacate the order of arrest, without affidavits, on a mere general notice.

On the hearing, the ground of his report appeared to be, that the copy of the affidavit served upon him at the time of his arrest bore no signature. This objection was not specified in his order to show cause. The Special Term vacated the order of arrest on this ground alone, and discharged the defendant, notwithstanding the plaintiff raised the preliminary objection that the irregularity was not stated in the moving papers, as required by Rule 39.

Appeal was taken from the order, and it was now reversed. Opinions by Justices SUTHERLAND and MULLEN.

John N. Lewis for plaintiff; H. M. Whitehead for defendant.

Decrease in Undrawn Deposits	3,216,004

Including the Clearing-house operations of the week, which show the inter-exchanges between the Banks, and including also the Sub-Treasury balance at the close of the week, the following is the general comparison with the previous exhibit, and also with the movement this time last season:

	June 14, 1862.	June 13, 1863.	June 6, 1863.

The Bank return shows the effects of the continued large conversion of United States currency into the New Loan of 1882. The Deposits are drawn down about three and a quarter millions, and the Loans curtailed nearly two millions since last Monday. The stock of Gold in Bank is higher by $642,000, and rather less in the Sub Treasury than this day week. There is some discussion among the Bank managers about paying their July dividends in gold, on the argument that they are receiving the interest on their Government investments, which are very considerably ahead of their capitals, in gold. We presume that each Board of Directors will make their own decision on the subject. The supply of money to the Brokers to-day at 7 ℔ cent is sufficiently free to render the market generally comfortable at this rate though without decided ease. The price of gold coin having advanced to 145½ ℔ cent., the rate of exchange on London is called 158½@160 ℔ cent. The mail for the Persia on Wednesday, will not close until the afternoon of that day.

The price of Gold was advanced 1½ ℔ cent. at the early Stock Board on unfavorable army reports from the Rappahannock and Potomac. Between the Boards on the Street the wildest and most senseless rumors were circulated on the same subject, and the price of Gold bid up to 147½ ℔ cent., but at the Second Board the bidding returned to 145¾@145½ ℔ cent. For about an hour (between 1 and 2 o'clock P. M.,) the excitement on the Street was very marked among both the Gold and Stock speculators, but the amount of business at extreme rates was not large, nor the advance in Exchange at all equal to the sudden rise in Gold.

The Share market was feverish through the dealings of the day. In the forenoon prices failed to sympathize with the change in Gold, although generally better than on Saturday afternoon, by ½@1 ℔ cent. The exceptions were Harlem and Toledo, which fell off each 2@2½ ℔ cent. on a large cash and time business in the former. At the Second Board the bidding was weaker on the New-York and Western Roads, and the market indifferent as regards both the demand for Stocks and the limit of speculation. The Government Securities were firm and the price of Missouris fairly steady. At 4 o'clock the following prices were made in comparison with Saturday night. The price of Gold Coin on the advance again.

The conversions of United States Currency into the New Loan of 1882, to-day, amount to $1,194,400, of which $907,300 was paid in through the Loan Agency, and $287,100 on subscriptions direct at the Treasury Office. The general balance in the Office this Afternoon is up to $23,868,427. The receipts from all sources for the day are $8,457,842, including $3,000,000 transferred from another depository; the payments, $5,451,935. The Customs of the day are $82,000.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels are endeavoring to execute their threat to invade the loyal States, and to carry fire and sword to Northern firesides. In fact, two of the loyal States are already invaded; but whether the movement will result in success or failure, remains to be seen. We find in the Baltimore papers of yesterday morning, an account of the movement up the Shenandoah Valley of a large rebel force, ascertained to be the corps of LEE'S army, lately under command of Stonewall JACKSON, but now commanded by Gen. EWELL. This force, estimated at from ten to eighteen thousand men, was discovered on Friday last, moving up on the Strasburgh road. On approaching Winchester, on Saturday morning, they were met by the National forces, under Gen. MILROY, and a severe battle ensued, resulting in the repulse of the rebels. The engagement was renewed during the afternoon, and again on Sunday, and was in progress at last advices. The National force, at Berryville, in Clark County, eleven miles from Winchester, were also attacked on Saturday, but it is believed that they succeeded in cutting their way through and joined Gen. MILROY at Winchester. On Sunday, a body of rebels, estimated at from three to five thousand, appeared in the vicinity of Martinsburgh, having passed around Winchester, and demanded, the surrender of the place, which was refused and a battle commenced, which was still in progress at 7 o'clock, when telegraphic communication beyond Harper's Ferry ceased. The National cavalry force stationed at Kearneysville, eight miles east of Martinsburgh, fell back to Duffield's depot, five miles west of Harper's Ferry. Some severe skirmishing also occurred at Middletown on Friday, between the rebel advance and our cavalry and artillery, in which the rebel troops suffered severely. This much we learn from the Baltimore papers. For a knowledge of subsequent events we have to rely upon such telegrams as have been allowed to come over the wires. From them we gather that the rebels have succeeded in crossing the Potomac, in forcing their way across the narrow part of Maryland, and have penetrated Pennsylvania. It was judged from this fact yesterday that Gen. MILROY had been finally overpowered at Winchester on Sunday, and forced to surrender; but a dispatch received last night from Baltimore brings us the assurance that, though surrounded by 18,000 men, he succeeded in cutting his way out, and uniting with our forces at Harper's Ferry. The force at Martinsburgh also succeeded we are assured, in reaching Harper's Ferry. Dispatches received yesterday afternoon from Greencastle and Bolton's Station, Penn., announced that Hagerstown, Md., had been evacuated, the troops falling back to Chambersburgh, and subsequently that Chambersburgh had probably been captured, but about the latter there appears to be no certainty. In the meantime we hear nothing of Gen. HOOKER, who is undoubtedly operating somewhere against the main army of LEE.

A special dispatch from Harrisburgh, received late last night, announces that communication with Chambersburgh had just been broken. It was learned previously that the enemy were advancing in three columns—one toward Waynesboro, one direct to Chambersburgh, and one toward Mercersburgh and Cool Mountains. The column advancing on Chambersburgh was about 5,000 strong, principally cavalry, supported by infantry and artillery.

To meet the present exigency, the President, in a Proclamation which we publish elsewhere, calls for 100,000 militia—50,000 from Pennsylvania, 30,000 from Ohio, 10,000 from Maryland, and 10,000 from West Virginia—to be mustered into the service forthwith, and to serve for the period of six months from the date of muster unless sooner discharged. These militia are to be organized according to the rules and regulations of the volunteer service, and the States furnishing them will be credited under the enrollment act for the service rendered. Gov. CURTIN, of Pennsylvania, has also issued a proclamation calling upon the militia of the State to assemble at once for the protection of the State, and a similar call has been made by Gov. FORD, of Ohio.

The President, it will be seen, has also called upon the Governor of New-York for 20,000 militia, which will be promptly furnished. A large portion of this force will leave for the scene of danger to-day.

We have advices from Vicksburgh and vicinity to the 10th inst., at which time the situation was generally unchanged, though our lines were being daily contracted. The late rains had improved the condition of the army. JOE JOHNSTON was still receiving reinforcements from the East, and was preparing for an attack. About 6,000 of KIRBY SMITH'S force were reported to have come up the Washita River, and to be making demonstrations on the Louisiana side of the river—in consequence of which our troops at Milliken's Bend had been reinforced.

There was a report in Memphis last week that on Monday, June 8, the rebel garrison in Vicksburgh made an ineffectual attempt to cut through Gen. GRANT'S lines, and that they were driven back with severe loss.

The brig Arabella arrived at this port yesterday, and reports having been captured by the Florida No. 2, recently the Tacony, captured by the pirate Coquette, the tender of the Florida. The capture took place on the 12th, but the vessel was subsequently released on bond. We learn from Boston that the Government has chartered several fast sailers there, to cruise after the Tacony.

Gen. MCCLELLAN has completed his report of all his military operations from the time he was called to the position of General-in-Chief of the army until he was relieved from command of the Army of the Potomac. It is said it will be published.

It is reported that Gen. SICKLES does not intend to return to the Army of the Potomac.

GENERAL NEWS.

An arrival at this port from Havana announces the arrival there of a steamer which left Vera Cruz on the 5th of June. The only Mexican news, however, is a confirmation of the report that Gen. ORTEGA, lately commanding at Puebla, had succeeded in making his escape from the French at Orizaba. A number of other Mexican officers also escaped at the same time.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, yesterday, a communication was received from the Mayor and Comptroller, stating that they had selected the Tribune and Herald as Corporation papers. It was referred to the Advertising Committee. A letter from CLARK MILLS, the sculptor, offering a duplicate of his collossal equestrian statue of JACKSON, for $30,000, and erect it on a suitable pedestal. It was made for one of the rebellious States—the order being given before the war. Mr. MILLS says the price is less by two-fifths than he received for the original. The proposal was referred. Some general business was transacted, and the Board adjourned to 1 P. M. on Thursday.

In the Board of Councilmen the message from the Mayor and Comptroller, in reference to their selection of the Corporation papers, was read and ordered on file. The Comptroller reported a ballance of $1,538,834 81 in the City Treasury on last Saturday. A resolution by Mr. BRICK, to increase the pay of the street sweepers from $1 50 to $1 75 per day, and that of the dirt cartmen from $3 to $3 50 was laid over. A resolution by Mr. MCVAY, to give the foremen of gangs $2 50 instead of $2 per day, was referred. The Board concurred in adopting an ordinance appropriating $500,000 to replenish the Relief Fund. The resolution to give the widow of GEORGE W. BADGER, who lost his life at the fire in Cherry-street last winter, while serving as foreman of Engine company No. 9, the sum of $2,500, was amended by making the donation $1,000 and then concurred in. The Board adjourned to four o'clock P. M. on Thursday.

The City Inspector reports that 406 persons died in New-York during the past week—98 men, 92 women, 111 boys, 105 girls,—an increase of 56 upon the mortality of the previous week, and of 71 as compared with the mortality of the corresponding week of 1862. Of the deceased, 178 were children under 5 years of age. The mortality by the principal diseases was as follows: Consumption, 63; infantile convulsions, 37; scarlet fever, 24; infantile marasmus, 19; inflammation of the lungs, 17; disease of the brain, 15; diptheria, 12; typhoid fever, 11; typhus fever, 10; deaths from external causes, 35—among which are reported 2 premature births, 3 deaths from old age, 10 drowned, 5 killed by accidents. There were 58 deaths in the institutions, and 41 interments in Potter's Field.

In the Court of Sessions, yesterday, before Recorder HOFFMAN, JOHN LOWRIE, alias Robert Vernon was convicted of burglary in the third degree, second offence. JAMES BURNS pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny. Both prisoners were remanded for sentence.

The price of Gold advanced 3@3½ ⅌ cent. yesterday on excited rumors from the rebel army on the Rappahannock and Potomac. The price closed on the Street 146¼@⅜ ⅌ cent. The Stock Market left off dull. Money 7 ⅌ cent. to the Stock Brokers, in fair supply.

Breadstuffs were in more demand, yesterday, at decidedly higher prices. A moderate business was transacted in Hay, Hops, Cotton, Groceries and Provisions—in the market for which there were no very remarkable alterations. Business in most other articles was restricted, as the exciting war news absorbed very generally the attention of merchants. Rather heavier freight engagements were effected.

The Cattle Market was brisk Monday morning at the old rates. There were on sale at Forty-fourth-st., 3,600 fresh, and 200 stale animals, many of them heavy, fat bullocks. Prices ranged from 10c. to 12c. for the majority, and nearly all were sold.

The Rebel Invasion.

The excitement that was produced in the City yesterday by the publication in the TIMES of the news that LEE'S rebel army had crossed the Rappahannock and was marching northward, and that HOOKER'S army had also left camp to take up a new line of operation, will be greatly increased to-day by the news of the battles in the Shenandoah Valley on Saturday and Sunday—the rebel advance into Pennsylvania—and the call of the Government for 120,000 more troops—20,000 of whom are to be from this State. It may be thought passing strange that we were not permitted to hear of these important battles two days ago. They were known in Baltimore and Washington on Sunday, and details of them were published in the Baltimore papers of yesterday morning. It is the withholding of the news of rebel movements, that does more than anything else to precipitate the country into demoralizing excitements. We were assured last week, up to its very last day, that the rebel army was still at Fredericksburgh—while the fact is, that they must have begun their march with the week, for on Friday they appeared before Winchester, in the Shenandoah Valley, with 18,000 men, and another force as high up as Martinsburgh, on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The people of Pennsylvania were in as great darkness as ourselves, and the rebel army, by a forced march might actually have filed into Philadelphia while its shad-bellied citizens were reading in their morning papers that all was quiet on the Rappahannock. Now, as a matter of course, on learning the facts, they are in an unparalleled condition of excitement; and even the Copperheads, who were preparing to hold their great Peace meeting in Independence-square, may first have to fight two or three battles with the rebels for its possession.

It does not appear yet, that the main body of LEE'S army is in the Shenandoah Valley, nor does it appear where it is. We should hardly think, however, that he would send one-third of his army into the Valley, unless he meant that the remaining two-thirds should follow. There would be no particular object, to the rebels, in fighting the small bodies of troops which we had stationed there, unless they meant to clear the way for a general advance. It would seem that the rebels had got beyond the grasp or the pursuit of HOOKER; and the extraordinary haste of the Government in calling for a new army from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia and New-York, shows that they find it necessary to improvise a second force to meet the rebels in their front on the Potomac. It may well be feared, however, if LEE'S army is now in the Valley, or if he has 25,000 men at Winchester or Martinsburgh, that he will effect a lodgment on this side of the Potomac at least ten days before we can get a force on its bank sufficiently strong to meet him. He brings with him, too, an army of 90,000 men, who have seen two years of steady service, while our new army must consist of raw levies, not one-fifth of whom have ever seen battle. Still, we cannot believe that he means to move any distance with his army into Pennsylvania with intent of staying there. It is a desperate move at best; and in a short time he will certainly find himself surrounded by a force that he can neither cut through nor defeat.

The rebel force in Pennsylvania, and reported at Chambersburgh, appears to be the cavalry of STUART, with an infantry support. This is doubtless the movement which STUART himself projected, and of which we have twice or thrice published the plan in his own words, taken from the diary of a rebel officer, one of STUART'S confidants, found at Chancellorsville.

The battles in the Valley appear to have been three. The Confederates, 18,000 strong, appeared near Winchester on Friday evening last; and on next day, they attacked the force of Gen. MILROY, 10,000 strong, at that place. Their fortune was bad in their first attempt; but at night they renewed the battle, and again on Sunday, when they succeeded in surrounding MILROY, but he cut his way out and arrived at Harper's Ferry yesterday. Our force at Berryville was also attacked on Saturday night by a large rebel force, but it would appear that they succeeded in getting to Winchester and effecting a junction with MILROY. On Sunday night five thousand rebels appeared at Martinsburgh, and demanded the surrender of the place; but the officer in command refused to comply, when the rebels attacked him; but he also has succeeded in joining his force to that of MILROY at Harper's Ferry. At this latter point we must now have 20,000 men, unless LEE'S main body should have come up, and we have been compelled to evacuate it for safety.

The rebel force is now on our soil, and the prospect to some may look as discouraging as it is disgraceful. But we think they have furnished the army of HOOKER and the levies of the North the best opportunity we have ever had to attack them under favorable circumstances, and cut them to pieces. This rebel army should never be allowed to return to Virginia.

The New-York Militia.

It will be seen that beside the hundred thousand troops called for from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia, the Government has called upon the State of New-York for twenty thousand militia men immediately. They are to serve for six months, and will be credited to the State under the Conscription. All the militia regiments of the State will be filled up to their maximum number under the State drafting law. The men will be raised under the auspices of the State authorities; and very properly, no bounties will be given.

Gov. SEYMOUR, immediately on receiving the order from Washington, summoned the Major Generals of State Militia to Albany, and took measures for the rapid organization of the force. Gen. SANDFORD, of this city, telegraphed to the Governor that he could bring out 5,000 men without delay, and favorable responses have been received from other parts of the State. It will be seen by a special order elsewhere that the several regiments of the First and Third Brigades of the National Guard of this city are ordered, by Gens. SPICER and HALL, to hold themselves in readiness to-day to depart for Philadelphia, for short service.

It is well that these prompt measures have been taken—though they can hardly be said to be prompt when the rebels are already on Northern soil. Had the Conscription law been enforced three months ago, as it ought to have been, we should now have had a drilled force in the field sufficiently strong to hold the rebels at bay and save the nation from excitement or fear.

We suppose that among the first to rush to the field will be the lately returned volunteers. We have now thirty-five or six regiments in the State, who have come since the opening of last month, probably at least eighteen thousand men. All these have been under fire, and know the discipline of the service and the duties of the field. One regiment of them is worth three regiments who have never been in service. But the men will be of nearly as great value scattered through the militia regiments as in regiments by themselves. In any way, they can render invaluable duty to their country.

The perils of the nation and the National Capital will, for the time, put a stop to all disputes and party wrangling—to all talk of peace or all unjust criticism of the Government. The supreme duty of the day is to drive these insolent rebels from our soil, and utterly demolish and crush this infernal rebellion itself.

A RAID ON THE PEACE PARTY.—If the rebel cavalry, now supposed to be on a grand raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania, should be so successful as to penetrate either State, we venture a prediction or two as to the result. 1. They will utterly fail to be impressed by the services in their behalf of men claiming to be "Peace Democrats," but will snatch the horses, kill the cattle, and burn down the houses of all alike who come within their destructive sweep. 2. After they have come and gone (for their visit will be as brief as a thunder-storm in Summer,) the once "Peace Democrats" of the States invaded will be found picking their flints, whetting their knives, rallying to common centres and asking to be led on an avenging campaign against the traitors to their country and the ravagers of their homes. 3. The political atmosphere will be purified by the rebel fire, blasting its way through the green and beautiful North—"peace meetings" will cease to be held; party names will be discontinued and forgotten; the conscription will no longer be opposed; the name and sorrows of VALLANDIGHAM will not be strongly pressed for sympathy, and possibly, for a third time, we shall behold a "united North," and a great uprising of the people.

Our Dreadful Scares.

There is something decidedly undignified in the periodical and prodigious panics which are communicated to the country by telegraph from Washington—and the most sudden and tremendous of all of which is now sweeping over Pennsylvania, Maryland and the whole land. They come like a sudden storm upon a calm sea; and the rage and fury of the tempest is proportioned to the depth of the preceding calm and confidence. If the country does not get shipwrecked in one of these panics, it will be because we have a reserve force whose hearts are undaunted, whose arms are strong and their nerves steel. It is disgraceful that a great nation should thus appear as poltroons in presence of a rebel army which it ought to be able to devour, body and boots. One such scare would be bad enough, but in two years we have had half a dozen. If we ever get over this one, it will doubtless be repeated in about four months. We have now a double panic—one for sea and one for land; the privateers are on our coast and LEE is in Pennsylvania! We are sure that rather than these, the people would welcome a universal conscription—would sustain an army two millions strong, and let the Government make arbitrary arrests and suppress newspapers at pleasure. The rebels laugh at these panics of ours; they themselves seem never to indulge in them. Foreign nations laugh at them, and sneer at us; and NAPOLEON said that the contempt of foreigners was the greatest of insults in the eyes of a proud people. If we were accustomed steadily and manfully to look all our difficulties in the face—to study the situation calmly and understandingly—and if the Government, instead of treating the people as children, would treat them as intelligent citizens, we should not so often disgrace our country and ourselves by these panics.

Emancipation in Missouri.

To-morrow the State Convention of Missouri meets, under the call of Gov. GAMBLE, to consider the subject of Emancipation. The present Convention was elected more than two years ago, and it was composed at that time of uncompromising Unionists, but in large part of equally uncompromising Pro-Slavery men. STERLING PRICE, for instance, of rebel fame, was a member; and so was URIEL WRIGHT, of St. Louis; and several others of marked ability and influence, who have long since abandoned the Union cause because they could not love it more than they did Slavery, and have cast their fortunes with the seceded States. This purgation, together with the hard lessons and incalculable losses that two years of war have inflicted on Missouri, has effected a great change in the opinions of the members of the Convention, and in the public sentiment of the State. There is not a reasonable doubt that a majority of the people now demand the adoption of some system by which Slavery shall be abolished as speedily as is compatible with the good order of society. And it would be unjust to the members of the Convention who have shared in the lessons of the past, to suppose that they will not respond to the manifest expressions of the popular will. Nevertheless, it is proper to advise the Eastern friends of emancipation in Missouri that a so-called "radical party" has sprung up in St. Louis, and has some sympathy throughout the State, which demands "immediate and unconditional emancipation," and seems willing to abide no other policy. The Convention will not be inspired by the counsels of this new party. Nor is it well that it should, for a more Quixotic party, if it should be dignified by such an appellation, has seldom illustrated the fierce politics of the fecund West. It is this same modest organization that recently demanded of President LINCOLN the expulsion of Mr. SEWARD and several others from his Cabinet, and the general reorganization of public affairs on a basis of radical Missouri ideas.

These radical emancipationists denounce the Convention that meets to-morrow, and characterize it as an obsolete Pro-Slavery body. Their newspaper organs classify its members as follows:

Conservatives	35	Radicals	18
Copperheads	28	Rebels	11
Total			92

This classification is not at all just to the Convention, as the event will prove. It is a remarkable fact that there is not a newspaper now published in Missouri, nor a public man, that is not an avowed advocate of emancipation, on such basis as shall most speedily, as well as safely, remove Slavery from the State. The radicals propose nothing, but only clamor without ceasing that the rest of the State are not going or will not go fast enough. The original advocates and agitators of emancipation in Missouri, who for fifteen years have carried their lives in their hands, while they have enforced their views, are the men denounced now as "Conservatives," whilst the latest recipient of "radical" favor in St. Louis, in the election of a member to fill a vacancy in the Convention, is a crack-brained individual, late of the Copperhead species, who two years ago would not support such men as ROLLINS and GAMBLE, of Missouri, because, forsooth, they were such Abolitionists!

The friends of Missouri have no occasion to be alarmed for the State in the hands of the ancient and steady friends of good Government, who drove the traitor JACKSON away, and have since conducted its civil administration. The recent letter of President LINCOLN gives evidence that he recognizes these as representatives of the sound principles of emancipation, and of course he will be found coöperating with them in relieving the State from the burden of Slavery.

IS NEW-YORK PREPARED?—The situation of the State of Pennsylvania is, at this moment, a most painful one. With or without cause, there is a wide-spread and startling rumor and dread of rebel invasion. One after another her border towns have been evacuated by the small forces stationed in them, and the inhabitants left unprotected, to flee and leave their property to be ravaged, if the enemy comes, or to stay and be insulted and robbed, without ability to resist. Even the Capital of the State is held to be in great danger, and the Governor is constrained to call from every quarter that help may be sent up to protect it and drive back the invaders.

The alarm that agitates the towns is a mild sensation, compared with the absolute terror that fills the breasts of quiet families in the rural districts on the approach of the public enemy. A half million people in Pennsylvania will suffer as deep anxiety and distress from the fear of the threatened invasion as they would, if it were actually made, and they were victims of it.

All this arises from the consciousness of their defenceless condition. The State has no organized force to call out or rely on for home defence. Brave hearts and stout arms there are in Pennsylvania, in sufficient numbers to repel an invasion by every rebel in arms in the Confederacy. But they are at home following the plow or swinging the sickle. They cannot be brought together, armed, equipped and trained, in time to prevent much of the injury that may be inflicted by an infuriated enemy, if by any ill-fortune they should penetrate the heart of the State, as they are reported to be aiming to do.

There is no reason why the Empire State of New-York should suffer, either from fear or from actual invasion, what may fall to the lot of Pennsylvania. There is time, if the public authorities will it, to put this State on a footing of perfect security against any foe, by organizing a militia force for self-defence. If Pennsylvania is invaded in any force, there should be immediate action to call out a hundred thousand of our able-bodied population to aid our sister State, if the occasion demand it.

VALLANDIGHAM'S OPPONENT.—Ohio Unionism is likely to have an able and worthy champion in the person of JOHN BROUGH, in the coming canvass for Governor. Mr. BROUGH has not been prominent recently in politics. He was, a great many years ago, an editor in the City of Cincinnati, of the Jacksonian-Democratic type. He won an enviable fame for honesty, directness, clearness and logical power. But he was too sincere a man to be a partisan editor and after a while relinquished his position and betook himself to the pursuits of private life. Being of an enterprising turn, and with a mind for comprehensive combinations, he identified himself with the railroad work of the West, and for twenty years has been in the lead of the great internal improvements of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He has achieved a more indisputable success as a builder and operator of railroads than any other man in those States, and has a reputation for integrity, sagacity and business habits, that is known and appreciated, and that makes his name a household word in every hamlet in Ohio. In addition, he is a War Democrat of the most unblenching sort. He has never slackened or varied in his support of the Government in its first duty to suppress the rebellion. He has not shared with Mr. VALLANDIGHAM in sympathy for the "persecuted South," but gives all his sympathy to his country imperiled by a wicked and desperate treason. A better and abler champion the Union men of Ohio could not have.

JOURNALISTS IN THE ARMY.—We have news of serious wounds received by two former attachés of the TIMES, now holding responsible official positions in the army. At the recent attack on Port Hudson, it is stated that Major G. C. CARR, of the second battalion of Duryee's Zouaves, was very severely wounded while leading his regiment into action; and Capt. ADAM BADEAU, of Gen. SHERMAN'S Staff, also received a severe wound in the foot. Both these gentlemen left the TIMES establishment to enter the army, and both have rendered most honorable and effective service. Major CARR took the field at the very outset of the war, as Lieutenant in the original regiment of Duryee's Zouaves, and took part in nearly all the engagements from Big Bethel down until the formation of the Second regiment, which was due largely to his personal efforts. Capt. BADEAU joined the army at Port Royal, and, after a brief transfer of service to the West, went with Gen. SHERMAN to the Lower Mississippi. Both are young men of ability, energy and promise, and will, we trust, recover from their wounds and add largely to the service they have already rendered. Capt. BADEAU is a brother-in-law of Gen. BUSTEED.

Constitutionality of Confiscation.

There has long been great doubt in the minds of intelligent and conscientious citizens whether any confiscation act should be passed to take hold of the property of convicted rebels, or whether any act, if passed, could, under the terms of the Constitution, be effectually enforced. This doubt has arisen out of what seemed a practical difficulty in the matter, owing to the form of Constitutional limit: "No attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted." How was it possible to confiscate a rebel's corn, flour, money, bank-stock, ships, houses or lands only "during his life?" Who would be entitled to this property after his death? and how would it be restored?

Judge SAMUEL A. FOOT, of this State, has done the country and the cause of constitutional interpretation a timely service in a review of this question, which he has just published in the form of a letter to Prof. WILSON, of Hobart College.

By tracing the history of the penalties of treason down through English law, from which the clause in our Constitution is transplanted, Judge FOOT endeavors to show that the meaning of the clause we have quoted is that all penalties for treason must be inflicted during the lifetime of the traitor, or not at all. It was at one time the practice in England to corrupt the blood of a traitor, so that disability to take property would descend to his heirs. It was the purpose of the American fundamental law to prevent the application of this principle in this country. Such and no other, in Judge FOOT'S view, was the intention, and should be the effect of the clause in our Constitution.

The letter is very able and interesting, and will reward general attention.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, June 15.

REBEL PRISONERS FROM THE WEST.

Four thousand rebel prisoners from the West arrived at Fort Delaware to-day, preparatory to being sent South for exchange. Most of them were captured by Gen. GRANT. Within a week six thousand five hundred prisoners, captured by him, have arrived East, with more to come.

COMMISSIONS IN NEGRO REGIMENTS.

There were twenty applications to-day for commissions in negro regiments. Thus far, out of four hundred applicants examined by the Board, only thirty have passed muster.

ADMIRAL DAHLGREN.

Admiral DAHLGREN will leave in a few days to assume command, under Admiral FOOTE, at Charleston. He will there have an abundant opportunity of establishing the claims made for his guns.

A REBEL HOWL.

A correspondent of the Richmond Inquirer of the 13th howls tremendously over Yankee raids into the peninsular counties. He says: "This is the seventh county, in the last four weeks, that they have pillaged, and if this thing continues the people will be left to starve. These counties have furnished large supplies to the Government, and will the Government now leave us dependent and defenceless?"

PROMOTION.

Col. KILPATRICK was appointed a Brigadier General to-day.

RELIEVED.

Surgeon MCDOUGALL has been relieved, on account sickness, from duty on Examining Board now in session at West Point. Surgeon HAMMOND has been assigned to fill vacancy.

DISMISSED.

Lieut. JOHN M. KILLS, Thirty-first Ohio Volunteers, for embezzling Government property, &c., has been dismissed from the service, by order of Gen. ROSECRANS.

BILLY BOWLEGS.

BILLY BOWLEGS' eloquent and pathetic appeal for a gun to replace the one which he lost in his recent encounter with a bushwhacker, has so affected Commissioner DOLE, that he has ordered to be presented to him a handsomely mounted rifle, with the injunction to be careful in future to first "wing" his game before he attempts its capture.

AN IMPORTANT CIRCULAR.

The following circular has been addressed to Collectors and Assessors by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue:

SIR: The attention of Collectors and Assessors is requested to the first three interrogatories, and of Assessors to the fourth:

1. Are adhesive stamps well distributed and generally used in your district? If not, state what the reason is, and give such information as you possess concerning their use, and of the neglect or omission to use them.

State also, particularly, as to the use or omission to use the proprietary stamps.

2. Are stamps affixed to instruments, or to proprietary medicines, usually canceled according to law?

3. Have you reason to believe that stamps once used upon instruments are, in your district, sometimes or frequently used a second time.

4. Is the Government defrauded out of revenue which it ought to receive or would receive in your district from the use of stamps, if the provisions of the law were faithfully observed? And if so, state in what way it is so defrauded.

5. What number of clerks have you employed during each month of your official service; what compensation has been given per diem; how many days has each one been employed; are any, females or males, under age; is the whole amount of compensation agreed upon actually paid, or has a part been reserved or otherwise applied, or is any part in any contingency to be reserved or otherwise applied?

An early answer is requested.

(Signed) JOSEPH J. LEWIS, Commissioner.

DECISION CONCERNING PROPRIETARY MEDICINES OR PREPARATIONS.

The following decision has just been made public:

Under Schedule C of the Excise Law, medicines or preparations made and sold, or removed and sold, wherever the person making or preparing the same has or claims to have any private formula or occult secret or art for making or preparing the same, or has or claims to have any exclusive right or title to making or preparing them, or which are recommended or held out to the public by the makers, vendors, or proprietors, as proprietary medicines or as remedies or specifics for disease, are subject to stamp duties.

By the 107th section, it is provided that the act shall not apply to any uncompounded medicinal drug or chemical, nor to any medicine compounded according to the United States or other national pharmacopœia, nor of which the full and proper formula is published in either of the dispensatories, formularies or text books in common use among physicians and apothecaries, nor in any pharmaceutical journal now used by any incorporated college of pharmacy, and not sold or offered for sale or advertised under any other name, form or guise than that under which they may be severally denominated and laid down in said pharmacopœias, dispensatories, text books or journals.

The intention of the act of Congress is plain. It is to subject to stamp duty every kind of preparation made and sold as medicinal, and claimed by the maker or vendor to be proprietary, or recommended as possessing peculiar virtues imparted in the manufacture by the secret art or occult formula of the manufacturer; and it is to exempt from duty all medicines known in trade, or compounded according to some published formula, or any medical treatise recognized by the professors of medical science, and not offered for sale under any guise or pretence of proprietorship.

It matters not, therefore, what the commodity may be, substance or essence, that is prepared and removed for sale, if it is claimed or pretended to be a compound of which the formula is secret, or which the right of making is the exclusive property of one or more persons. Though it be only bread rolled into pills, or rain-water imprisoned in little vials, and to be taken in drops, the claim or pretence of the vendor determines its character. It cannot be treated as medicine for the customer, and bread and water only for the tax-collector. The dealer must be taken for what he professes himself to be, and if he seeks profit by deluding the public, he must pay for his privilege like an honest man. The assumption must be taken for the fact, and when that of a proprietary right or secret art or knowledge clearly appears, no inquiry as to the composition of the drug will be pertinent or proper. If the packet, box, pot, vial, or other inclosure is not stamped, the penalties of the act are incurred and ought to be enforced.

Amusements.

The WEBB Sisters give to-night and on Thursday night, at the Brooklyn Athenæum, one of their charming entertainments, protean in character and cheering in tone. The Dog-days even are subject to these young ladies, and fun and frolic rule the hour.

Affairs in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Monday, June 15.

There was a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day, on the subject to memorialize Secretary CHASE regarding restrictions in trade with the Southern States. Gen. WALBRIDGE, of New-York, made a speech, in which he expressed the opinion that it would be wise for the Government, as fast as they took possession of any portion of the Southern States to throw it open to commerce, with the least possible restriction, since our armies go to extend the blessings of the Federal Constitution which was itself founded on the necessities of commerce.

The enrolled militia of this county have been ordered to drill daily until further orders.

Eleven hundred prisoners were sent to City Point from here last week for exchange.

Gov. GAMBLE has ordered an election in the Third Congressional District, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of JOHN W. NOELL.

Rebel Cavalry Dash into Maysville, Ky.

CINCINNATI, Monday, June 15.

Two hundred and fifty mounted rebels dashed into Maysville, Ky., last night. They left this morning, after stealing the guards' horses and arms.

NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Exchange of Prisoners—The Retention of National Officers by the Rebels—The English and Austrian Consuls sent out of Rebeldom, &c.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, June 14.

The flag-of-truce boat New-York, from City Point, arrived last evening at 7 o'clock with 550 exchanged prisoners of war (all privates,) in charge of Capt. MULFORD, who left with them for Annapolis at 10 o'clock last evening.

The English and Austrian consuls, GEO. MOORE and D. VAUS, arrived on the New-York, having been ordered out of the Confederate States by the rebel Government.

It has been arranged between Col. LUDLOW, United States Commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, and ROBERT OULD, rebel Commissioner, that surgeons shall not be treated as prisoners of war. No exchange of officers can be at present made. A number of United States officers are held by the rebel authorities under charges intended to bring them under the operations of the act of the rebel Congress, which consigns to execution all officers taken in command of, or in company with armed negroes or mulattoes.

Col. LUDLOW will not, by making any special exchanges of officers, acknowledge the right of the rebel authorities to discriminate among our forces by detaining some and releasing others. He insists that all shall be released under the cartel, and we have enough rebel officers now in our possession to hold and reserve for retaliation. Exchanges of enlisted men go on as heretofore.

Richmond papers of June 13 have been received, which say that the reported taking of Helena, some days since, grew out of the fact that our (rebel) troops made a feint on that place, and succeeded in capturing a wagon train and some prisoners.

The Inquirer of the 13th says:

"Wm. BOND, an English subject, from North Carolina, was put in Castle Thunder yesterday, for improper conduct."

The propeller John Rice, Capt. GARVIN, arrived this forenoon from Morehead City yesterday morning. There is no news from that Department.

The Difficulties in Indiana.

THE EXCITEMENT IN REGARD TO THE ENROLLMENT—ARREST OF SUSPECTED PARTIES.

CINCINNATI, Monday, June 15.

Special dispatches from Indianapolis say: "The detachment of soldiers sent to Rush County, Indiana, to arrest all persons engaged in resisting the enrollment have returned."

Gen. MANSFIELD arrested a number of suspicious persons and required them to give bonds for their future good behavior.

A company of troops left for Fulton County on Saturday night, where the papers of the Enrolling Commissioners had been seized and destroyed by a mob.

Seventeen citizens of Johnson's County had been found gathered together in the woods armed with rifles and revolvers. These men were arrested and taken to Indianapolis.

One hundred and sixty East Tennessee conscripts were recruited from among the rebel prisoners at Camp Morton for the Fifth Tennessee cavalry, and left for Indianapolis on Saturday, to join a regiment in Lexington, Ky.

BRENNAN were appointed a Committee on Finance, to raise funds for an adequate celebration of the Fourth of July. Each Sachem assessed himself $20 toward defraying expenses. Grand Sachem PURDY, with the Sub Committee appointed at the last meeting, will visit Gov. SEYMOUR on Saturday next, to receive his reply to the invitation to be present at the celebration.

Sachems CORNELL, BRENNAN, SWEENY and brothers TWEED and CLANCY were appointed a Special Committee on Toasts.

Singular Freak.

We saw at BARNUM'S Museum, yesterday, a cat from whose breast two little minks were drawing the milk of sustenance and contentment. The cat is an ordinary feline, and the minks are extraordinary only in the extent of their appetite and the peculiar selection they have made as the medium through which they obtain their support.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY DR. VON EISENBERG.

Author of "Surgical and Practical Observations on the Diseases of the Ear, with his new Mode of Treatment."

NEW TESTIMONY.

"NEW-YORK, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.

THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"NEW-YORK, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. VON EISENBERG. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unsurpassing skill.

SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

No. 136 MADISON-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., ROOM No. 40, NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant.

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

FAITH GARTNEY'S GIRLHOOD,
By the author of "Boys at Chequasset."
1 vol. 12mo, cloth. Price $1½.

This story fills a void, long felt, for some book to give a young girl growing into womanhood. It is the simple record of a young girl's life, starting at fourteen—tracing, step by step, the development of a beautiful young soul, thirsting to achieve some great act of heroic goodness. In her own home she finds full scope for all the noble aspirations and struggles of a heart that does not fully understand its own wishes.

The doubts, fears, despair, and final joyous ending in the blissful fulfillment of every young girl's dream of earthly happiness are told in such touching, strong and tender language that every young girl who reads it will be made wiser and better for all her life. Wherever it is read it will be retained as a thoughtful, suggestive—if silent—friend.

Parents, give it a wide circulation.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob him of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. He has no other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to guarantee speedy and permanent cures. N. B.—Those who may have been misled by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., can call on Dr. J. with the certainty of receiving honorable treatment.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office No. 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

FINANCIAL.

LAKE ERIE AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.

FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND BONDS.

The Lake Erie and Pacific Railroad Company, in the State of Indiana, now offer for sale their entire issue of $890,000 First, and only, Mortgage Bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable semi-annually in the City of New-York.

These bonds are secured by a DEED OF TRUST, constituting the FIRST and ONLY lien upon the entire Road, its franchises, appurtenances, rolling stock, &c.

Its route is along the White Water Valley, from Rushville to Union, a distance of about sixty miles, and passes through the richest, best cultivated and most densely populated portion of the State of Indiana.

The road is the CENTRAL SECTION of the otherwise completed TRUNK LINE, connecting the great Southwest at LOUISVILLE, Ky., on the Ohio River, and at an early day with TOLEDO and SANDUSKY, on Lake Erie.

The Company is wholly without debt (except its bonded debt) and being strong in its local traffic, and connecting with roads that must necessarily largely increase the volume of its revenues, the BOARD OF DIRECTORS, with great confidence, invite the attention of capitalists to these securities, believing that they offer an opportunity for a first-class railroad investment, than which, in their judgment, there is no better to be had.

The published exhibits of the Company, together with a map showing the locality and advantages of the Road, can be had from either of the Trustees of the Deed of Trust, in this City, named below, and from either of whom the bonds are only to be had.

BARNUM'S AMERICAN MUSEUM.

In consequence of the immensely crowded audiences and great popularity of
THE FOUR SMALLEST MATURE HUMAN BEINGS
ever known on the face of the globe,
GENERAL TOM THUMB,
His beautiful and accomplished
LITTLE WIFE,
Late Miss LAVINIA WARREN,
the redoubtable
COMMODORE NUTT, AND MINNIE WARREN,
whom everybody seems anxious to see, and in accordance with the public demand, the manager has RE-ENGAGED THEM ALL
For a short time longer,
But only for a short time, as THEY SAIL FOR EUROPE IN A FEW DAYS, and cannot be prevailed upon to tarry long on this side of the ocean.

Will the public heed this notice? The world has never produced
SUCH A WONDER OF WONDERS,
as this group of elfin mortals—
ALL FOUR WEIGHING BUT 100 POUNDS,
Less than an ordinary boy of 16 years.

This is the last opportunity to see them, as they will not be exhibited again in this country.

They are not only the greatest curiosities in the world, as
THE SMALLEST QUARTETTE OF HUMANITY of perfect form and features, but also INTERESTING AND TALENTED PERFORMERS.

They sing, dance, give the Grecian Statues, personate various characters, &c., &c., with a talent and perfection unexcelled, if not unequaled.

COM. NUTT AS A COMIC SINGER, and indeed as a
COMIC ORATOR AND PERFORMER, has few equals, and never fails to elicit the heartiest applause.

THEY HOLD THEIR LEVEES
EVERY MORNING, AFTERNOON AND EVENING.
EVERY MORNING AT 11 O'CLOCK,
EVERY MORNING AT 11 O'CLOCK,
The whole Four appear in the identical
WEDDING COSTUMES
WEDDING COSTUMES
which they wore at Grace Church, and in which Gen. Tom Thumb and Lavinia Warren were married, Feb. 10, 1863.

They also appear in other costumes, and remain on exhibition till 12½ o'clock.

The MORNING EXHIBITION is always the best for LADIES, CHILDREN AND FAMILIES,
as it is less crowded and more comfortable.
Also, VARIOUS HOURS, AFTERNOON AND EVENING, and at each dramatic performance, beside their EXHIBITIONS ON THE PLATFORM
in the main hall of the Museum.

PHOTOGRAPHIC CARTES DE VISITE, by Brady, of these Four Wonderful Lilliputians, all on one card, at 25 cents each. Also two on one card, at 15 cents. Sent by mail at same price.

The GRAND AQUARIA, Learned Seal, Sea Lion, Monster Bear, Living Anacondas, Wax Figures, and a Million other Wonders from every quarter of the globe.

The manager has unbounded satisfaction in announcing
THE SPLENDID AND POPULAR DRAMA,
THE DUKE'S DEVICE, I AM HERE.

NEW SCENERY, DRESSES and DECORATIONS.
It will be played
Every Afternoon at 3 o'clock, and Every Evening at ¼ to 8.

Notwithstanding these immense attractions, FOUR TIMES as much as can be seen elsewhere for FOUR TIMES the price of tickets to the Museum, the admission remains the same as usual—only 25 cents. Children under ten years, 15 cents.

THE REBEL PIRATES.

More of the Victims of the Alabama Arrived at this Port—A Curious Statement from the Captain of the Schooner Kingfisher—His Opinion of His Captors.

THE SCHOONER KINGFISHER.

The whaling schooner Kingfisher, Capt. LAMBERT, was captured and burned by the Alabama March 23. The following is Capt. LAMBERT's statement:

The Kingfisher, on the 23d March, when in lat. 1° 20′ north, lon. 26° 20′, was boarded and taken possession of by the steamer Alabama. I was ordered on board of her, and was told by Capt. SEMMES that my vessel was a prize, &c. After taking out of my vessel such provisions as he desired, he set fire to her. I was on board the Alabama 23 days, and must say that I was treated well. Capt. SEMMES gave me all my nautical instruments; with him I had but little conversation, but he appeared like a perfect gentleman, and his language was such. Mr. KELL, the First Lieutenant, appeared the same. Dr. GAULT, the Surgeon, seems rather reserved. All the others I had frequent and free discussions with on any topic I desired. Lieut. HOWELL, of the Marines, I think highly of, and Mr. ARMSTRONG, Second Lieutenant, and Mr. WILSON, Third Lieutenant, and Mr. LANE, Fourth, all seemed pleasant men. Dr. LLEWELYN, Assistant Surgeon, and Mr. SINCLAIR, the Master, are fine men. Mr. FREEMAN, First Assistant Engineer, Mr. BROOK, Second ditto, Mr. CUMMINGS, Third, and Mr. O'BRIEN, Fourth Assistant Engineer, and Mr PLUNDT, Fifth, are all friendly, good-feeling men. Mr. SMITH, the Captain's Clerk; Messrs. BABCOCK, SINCLAIR, MAFFIT and ANDERSON, I shall always remember with gratitude for their kindness. They did me many little favors that were of great service to me. Mr. ALCOTT, sailmaker, and Mr. T. C. CUDDY, the gunner, are also nice men. Mr. MCCARKEY, the boatswain, and Mr. ROBINSON, carpenter, all treated me with kindness. I must not forget the steerage steward—he did me many favors. Mr. EVANS and Mr. FULAM, master's mates, and Mr. KING, the master-at-arms, are well appearing men. Although Capt. SEMMES burned my vessel and caused me great loss, yet I have no reason to call him a bad man, or pronounce such epithets upon him as many have done. I can only speak for myself.

THOMAS F. LAMBERT,
Late Com'g schr. Kingfisher, of Fair Haven, Mass.

The Louisa Hatch.

The following is the statement of Capt. GRANT, late of the ship Louisa Hatch, burned at sea by the Confederate steamship Alabama:

"Sailed from Cardiff March 5, for Ceylon, East Indies, with a cargo of coal. On 5th April, in lat. 3° 30′ south, lon. 26° 25′ west, was boarded by the Alabama, the crew taken off and the ship burned. Myself and part of my crew were landed at Pernambuco, the rest having joined the Alabama. The Louisa Hatch was seven years old, of 853 tons burden, and was owned by WM. MCLOUN, of Rockland, Maine." [The particulars of the capture of this vessel have been published.]

ANOTHER VICTIM.

The Brig Arabella Captured by the Tacony.

The brig Arabella, Capt. LINDSLEY, from Aspinwall twenty-four days, with merchandise to J. F. JOY, reports that on the 12th inst., in lat. 38° 20′, lon. 74° 30′, was boarded and taken possession of by the Confederate privateer Florida No. 2, but was afterwards released by signing a bond for $40,000, payable after the conclusion of the war between the United States and the Confederate States of America.

The Florida No. 2 was formerly the bark Tacony, of Philadelphia, who had been captured by the Coquette or Clarence. The Captain says it is his intention to destroy all vessels and their cargoes, and especially those which are contraband of war, and he thinks he is perfectly justified in doing so, inasmuch as the United States Government considers everything contraband of war going to or coming from any ports in the Confederate States of America.

He gave no reason for releasing the Arabella. He reported destroying two other vessels on the morning of the 12th, and had sent their crews to Philadelphia. Passenger, Mr. TieJman.

STATEMENT OF THE CAPTAIN.

When in lon. 74° 30′, lat. 38° 20′, the brig Arabella was boarded by the privateer Capt. REED and six of his crew, belonging to the Confederate privateer Florida No. 2. This privateer is supposed to be the bark Tacony, of Philadelphia, and has been altered for privateering purposes.

About 1 o'clock in the afternoon we first came in sight of the privateer, which was then steering eastward. I was steering northward, and never for a moment suspected, from the movements of the bark, that she was a privateer. I supposed that she was a merchant trading vessel, and did not, therefore, particularize her with any degree of curiosity; but I soon discovered that she changed her course of sailing, and followed in the wake of the Arabella. This did not alarm me, nor were any suspicions aroused respecting her, and this state of things continued up to 7 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day. At this hour she was fast overhauling the Arabella, and had come within an eighth of a mile distant. It was then I began to change my opinions in regard to her, and soon afterward she discharged one of her guns, in blank cartridge, to bring the Arabella to.

I had, then, no alternative left me but to heave to, and this I at once did, knowing that I was in the power and within the grasp of a rebel privateer. After I had heaved to, the first thing done by the captain of the rebel privateer, was to lower a boat and land six of his crew on board the Arabella, who took her as a prize in the name of the Confederate States. It was quite apparent to myself and the members of the crew of the Arabella, that the rebel Captain REED was making preparation to burn her and her cargo. This was the more evident from the fact that he gave us only fifteen minutes to lower a boat and get our wearing apparel packed to go on board the privateer.

After being put on board this privateer, I entered into conversation with REED, and called his attention to the fact that the entire cargo was neutral property, of which I held certificates in my possession. To these statements he appeared to listen, and the orders for burning the Arabella were countermanded until our interview was ended. Three of my crew, one passenger and myself were then on board of the privateer, and Capt. REED ordered his men to remain on board the Arabella until further orders. After this interview was concluded, I demanded what steps he intended to take in regard to the Arabella. His reply was that at first he had intended burning her, but on further consideration he had changed his mind, and would accept bonds on the vessel and cargo from me. These bonds were entered into to the amount of $40,000. He stated that the Arabella had made a narrow escape, as it was his intention to destroy all vessels of the United States which came within his reach. After the agreement had been ratified the Arabella was set at liberty, and myself and the members of my crew, with one passenger, were again put on board the brig, after which we set sail for New-York, where we arrived safely this (Monday) morning.

Capt. REED, of the privateer Florida No. 2, is described by Capt. LINDSLEY as a plain and unassuming man, and that during the time he and his men were on board the privateer, no overbearing conduct was evinced toward them, but they were courteously treated.

Capt. LINDSLEY, for the information and guidance of the merchant trading ships, gives the following description of Florida No. 2.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FLORIDA NO. 2.

Her appearance is that of an ordinary merchant bark, being bark rigged and painted black. She will be known by a dark patch on the foretopsail on the larboard side. She is armed with two 6-pound canonades, and has a crew of about sixteen men, as far as Capt. LINDSLEY could ascertain. She has no armament beyond the two 6-pounders, and she and her crew would be made an easy capture if met by any of the United States sloops-of-war. It is supposed that she will confine her movements to Southern waters, as in following the Arabella she run some risk of meeting with some of our ships-of-war. The Arabella now lies at Pier No. 18.

THE PIRATES AND THE NAVY.

A Fleet of Steam and Sailing Vessels Ordered off—Admiral Paulding to Charter any Number of Ships he Pleases.

The recent depredations in our commerce by the rebel pirates have stirred up the Navy Department to such an extent that all the navy yards are perfectly revolutionized by the amount of work ordered to be done within a few days. On Saturday, orders were received by Admiral PAULDING to complete at once all crafts nearly ready for sea, and to dispatch immediately those in commission, and seaworthy. He was not to stand upon the order of going, but to go at once. Similar instructions were sent to Philadelphia and Boston. The excitement occasioned by this unexpected energy was remarkable, and has increased every hour since, for fresh dispatches, each containing new commands have succeeded each other rapidly for 70 hours. The resources of New-York may be judged from the fact that, 24 hours after the receipt of the first orders the following fleet was outside the light:

Name.	Description.	Speed.
1. Seminole	Steam Gunboat	8 Knots.
2. Dai Ching	Steam Gunboat	Not known.
3. Virginia	Iron Steamer	10 Knots.
4. Tuscarora	Steam Sloop	8 Knots.
5. Kittatinny	Steam Gunboat	8 Knots.
6. Adela	Iron Steamer	Not known.

The Tuscarora and Kittatinny were to have sailed last evening from the Lower Bay. The following vessels are in a condition to be dispatched in twenty-four hours, and are preparing as fast as possible:

Name.	Description.	Speed.
1. San Jacinto	Screw sloop	9 knots.
2. Shenandoah	Screw sloop	Never tried.
3. Seneca	Steam gunboat	10 knots.
3. Dacotah	Steam gunboat	12 knots.

The Seneca and Shenandoah are at Philadelphia, and the Dacotah has just arrived at Baltimore. Over a dozen craft could be added to the above in about two weeks, some of them, as the Gertrude, are very fast. Some hopes are entertained of the Adela turning out a rapid steamer, as she has the Morgan paddle-wheel, and is said to be capable of going 16 miles an hour. Besides all these there are twenty-seven double enders, of which order twenty have been afloat and waiting engines for several weeks. Had the machinists been up to time with these, a score more of regular men-of-war might have been added to the chase; as it is, none of them can be ready in time to be of any use.

As will be seen from the estimate of speed set forth, none of the vessels dispatched could overhaul a pirate running 16 or 18 miles an hour. Having this fact in view Secretary WELLES yesterday telegraphed to Rear-Admiral PAULDING, authorizing him to charter such steamers and sailing ships as he deemed best adapted for speed. The good fortune attending the Ino, the Restless and Courier, all sailing vessels which have, by rapid movements, overhauled and captured prizes, rendered it good policy to give our clippers a trial after the pirates.

VESSELS CHARTERED.

In compliance with the foregoing orders, the Commandant of the Navy-yard immediately caused the charter of four steamers and some other craft. The following officers were then picked out to command the best of the vessels chartered:

Lieutenant-Commander J. SCOTT FILLEBROWN, Executive officer of the Navy-yard, to command one vessel.

Lieutenant-Commander MEADE, Executive officer of the steam-gunboat Quaker City, to command one vessel.

Lieutenant-Commander BREESE, of the regular navy, to command one vessel.

Acting-Master CRESSY, Commander of the Gertrude, to command one vessel.

The first vessel chartered was the Curlew. She rates A No. 2, is 380 tons burden, draws 10 feet of water, has two decks, is 200 feet long, 31 feet wide, and 12 feet deep. She has two vertical direct-acting engines, with cylinders 32 inches in diameter, and 2 feet stroke.

The bark Amy was chartered in Boston. She rates 171, is 298 tons burden, and was owned by RICE & HARTER. The Tidal Wave and Young Turk are also Boston vessels. The latter is 380 tons burden, rates A No. 1, and is owned by HARDY & Co. The Tidal Wave rates 12, is 355 tons, belongs to Salem, Mass., but was built at Essex, Conn. These are all said to be fast, but their speed is not given.

The other vessels chartered in the vicinity of New-York are the Cumbria and Blackstone; the latter has been before in the employ of the Navy Department, and is fast. The Cumbria is also a swift boat. Others, it is expected, will be chartered when time to examine them has elapsed.

MOVEMENT TO PROTECT OUR FOREIGN SQUADRONS.

The rumors which have been in circulation for some time, to the effect that a concerted attack would probably be made by rebel men-of-war on our small squadrons in the Mediterranean and the East Indies, having reached the authorities, it is said that four steamers are to proceed to the coast of Brazil, four to the Mediterranean, and four to the East Indies, for the purpose of reinforcing our fleets and protecting American commerce. The St. Louis and Constellation, in the Mediterranean, would be well able to protect themselves from any wooden vessels of their size and power, but the same security is not felt in regard to other squadrons. While little importance is attached to the statements that rebel iron-clads from England were contemplating the project of a voyage "up the Strait," it is deemed as well to guard against such a contingency.

COMPLETION OF THE IRON-CLAD PASSAIC.

The iron-clad Passaic, having been completed at Hunter's Point, was towed to the Navy-yard by the steam-tug Vanderbilt. The Roanoke did not go in commission.

THE STIMERS TRIAL.

Owing to the absence of witnesses who are required to testify in support of the charges brought by Rear-Admiral DUPONT against Chief Engineer STIMERS, the Court of Inquiry on Mr. STIMERS has been adjourned. It will reassemble at the Lyceum, in the Brooklyn Navy-yard, upon the call of the President, Admiral GREGORY.

BOSTON, Monday, June 15.

The Government have taken four clipper barks and four schooners to cruise for the pirate Tacony. They are now at the Navy-yard, and expect to get off to-night.

Ball Play.

ARRIVAL OF THE PHILADELPHIA BALL PLAYERS—THEY PLAY WITH AND DEFEAT THE EXCELSIORS—AN EXCITING CONTEST.

The Philadelphia Ball Players, consisting of a selected nine of the Athletic Club and their friends, to the number of about thirty, arrived in this city yesterday at 12½ o'clock via Jersey City, where they were met and cordially welcomed by delegations from the Clubs of this and the surrounding cities.

They were then taken in a six-horse stage over to South Brooklyn as guests of the Excelsior, with whom they played a match.

Play commenced at 2:25 P. M., and for several hours thereafter an assemblage of three to four thousand people were treated to as fine a display of ball playing as has been witnessed in these parts for some time. With perhaps two or three exceptions, the game was one of the most perfect we have ever witnessed. Several excellent catches were made on both sides, but the batting as a general thing was rather mediocre, very little excellence being displayed in that department. The following is the score, which will tell its own tale:

FROM THE REBEL STATES.

News from the Richmond Papers of Saturday.

More About the Great Cavalry Fight.

Heavy Losses Acknowledged by the Rebels.

Movements of National Forces on the Peninsula.

ALARM IN RICHMOND.

We have received Richmond papers of Saturday last, (June 13.) They contain very little news, but the following paragraphs are of interest:

The State's Prison and City Jail are so completely jammed with all sorts of prisoners and criminals, that the authorities ask to know what to do with them.

At the Cavalry fight near Kelly's Ford on the Rappahannock, on the 9th inst., Brig.-Gen. FITZHUGH LEE, a son of Major-Gen. ROBERT E. LEE, was very severely wounded; Capt. FARLEY, of Gen. STUART's Staff, was killed; Col. WILLIAMS, of the Second North Carolina Volunteers, was killed; Col FRANK HAMPTON was killed; Col. BUTLER, of South Carolina, had a leg shot off; Capt. JONES, of LEE's cavalry, was killed.

The battle was one of the most severely contested during the war.

There are now detained in Libby Prison one hundred and thirty-five Yankee officers, ninety-five of whom were captured near Rome, Ga. They are detained, together with citizen-prisoners, until the United States Government comes to terms on the issue pending between our and their Commissioners.

FREDERICKSBURGH, Friday, June 12.

The enemy have now held their position on this side of the river one week. Nothing has been done in the nature of fighting, if we except one or two artillery duels and daily picket firing at Culpepper.

Our losses at Culpepper on Tuesday were heavy, and among them were some of our best officers. Our casualties were 50 killed, 200 wounded and 500 prisoners. Among the killed was Gen. WRIGHT.

THE WAR.

From the Sentinel.

We are without a word from the Southwest at the time of writing this. The telegraph may have something to say before we go to press.

From Fredericksburgh the report is that all continues quiet. The enemy have thrown up works on this side of the river, near their pontoon bridges, as a protection. Our Generals could shell them out if they thought it worth while. Both sides, however, lie still. Fredericksburgh is in our possession, unmolested by the enemy.

From Culpepper we do not learn much additional. Capt. THOMAS TOWSON, of Stafford, was one of the slain in the late battle. His remains have been taken to Lynchburgh for sepulture.

There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the news that the enemy were exhibiting considerable force on the Peninsula, and advancing in a threatening manner. We learn that a column of three or four thousand were camped at Barhamsville in New Kent County, on Thursday night. Their gunboats are also reported in the James and Chickahominy. Our troops in the Peninsula are said to have fallen back, to avoid being taken in flank from the navigable waters.

Appropriate measures will doubtless be taken by our military to arrest the enemy. It is most likely, we think, a plundering and burning raid, ready, however, to profit by any opportunity to put an affront or serious injury upon us. If the people of Richmond have been waiting for the coal of fire that makes even a terrapin move they have got it now. Let them fill up the companies of Home Guards by instant action, if they think their homes are worth defending.

Of the numerous reports which were current we do not deem it necessary to make mention. One of them was to the effect that Hampton Roads was white with transports, which had brought HOOKER's men around to the Peninsula. We think this is a mistake, as our exchanged prisoners have just returned by that route.

From the Richmond Whig.

The report from the Rappahannock last evening was that everything remained in statu quo. The Yankees continue on this side of the river in some force, but what their intention is remains yet to be developed.

We have nothing additional from Culpepper. That the enemy has made no further demonstration since Tuesday last, is a pretty good proof that he was severely punished.

It was reported last evening that a Yankee steamer and two transports had come up the Chickahominy and landed a force in New Kent County. The city was full of rumors of anticipated "raids," but we could learn nothing reliable. It may be safely anticipated that if the enemy contemplate an advance from that direction, they will be met by a force adequate to the emergency.

We hear, in addition, that a force of the enemy, 2,500 strong, have advanced from Williamsburgh to Barhamsville, in New Kent County.

THE CAVALRY FIGHT.

RICHMOND, Friday, June 12, 1863.

As many erroneous statements have been published in regard to the late fight at Brandy Station—based doubtless on reports of alarmists, who got their information from those who proclaimed, in the rear, where they were, wild tales of surprise, in excuse of their not being in front, where they should have been—I write to correct those of them which I know to be groundless.

It has been said that JONES' brigade, which held the left of our line of fight, were cut through while in the act of forming, with their firearms unloaded. This is a great mistake. JONES' brigade never camps close to an enemy without loaded weapons, and an order was published to it, within half an hour after reaching camp near the river, to keep them loaded, and to graze their horses only by the halter.

That the attack was unexpected is true, but nothing more. The pickets resisted the advancing enemy gallantly, but, of course, could not long withstand their heavy columns. The brigade met the enemy near their camping-ground, about three miles below Brandy, held them in check till they tried to turn our flank, charged them then, though protected by woods, through an open field, twice recoiled before the murderous fire they met, but the third time routed them, nor did they advance by that route again. One portion of the brigade went to the rear when it was attacked, captured a Yankee battery near Gen. STUART's headquarters, and were in the final charge on Brandy Station.

I know nothing of what occurred on our right; but on our left the trains were all saved, the wounded brought off, and the horses and men captured far exceeded what we lost. This could not have occurred, had we been surprised and cut through. We had also the great satisfaction of knowing that their killed and wounded far outnumbered ours.

IODINE WATER.

A SOLUTION OF PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

No remedy has ever come before the public so wonderful in its curative powers, so astounding in its results. Its genuineness as a Pure Solution, and its excellence as a Medicine, are attested by some of the most distinguished names known to science in America and Europe.

The amount of ability, zeal, and assiduity which has been devoted to the elucidation of its effects upon the Human System has not been exceeded in the instance of any other article in Materia Medica; and it is acknowledged to possess very great powers in the cure of many obstinate diseases, over which other remedies have little or no influence.

The unparalleled success in private practice and the indorsement of high medical authority enable us to recommend as a specific cure for the following diseases: viz.: Scrofula, in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Bronchitis, Liver Complaints, Heart Diseases, Bilious Fevers, Fever and Ague, Nervous Affections, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Female Weaknesses, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, Syphilis, in all its various and afflicting stages, and the only remedy for the successful eradication of Mercurial Diseases, and, in fact, all those distressing and afflicting maladies which arise from an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, defective nutrition and impure atmosphere, &c.

That the public may be enlightened as to the nature and uses of Iodine, and be led to appreciate the benefit to be derived from this discovery, the outline of its history is herewith subjoined:

Iodine is an elementary body, discovered in the year 1812, by a soda manufacturer, at Paris. Some years after, its therapeutic (curative) powers were tried; these having been found valuable, it is now recognized as a standard remedy. It received its name from the Greek word which heads this advertisement.

Iodine exists in certain marine vegetables, particularly the fuci or common sea-weed, and in some fresh-water plants, among which are the water-cress, brooklime, and fine-leaved water hemlock. In the animal kingdom, in the sponge, oyster, various polypi, &c. It is also found in the mineral kingdom, in certain salt springs, in a rare Mexican mineral combined with silver, and in the zinc ore of Silesia.

Iodine was first discovered in the United States in the water of the Congress Spring, Saratoga, by Dr. Wm. Usher. It has also been detected in various other mineral springs in this country and in Europe. Of all substances, sea-weeds are probably the most rich in producing Iodine, especially those growing in the deep sea, as the fucus Palmatus of Linnaeus.

Iodine was first employed as a medicine in 1820, by Coindet, of Geneva, who obtained such striking results that its reputation soon spread, and it was employed in various diseases, and with the greatest advantage. Since that time it has been the subject of repeated experiments by savans all over the world, in the confident belief that, as a therapeutic agent, it conceals powers and properties more subtle and efficient than anything yet known in the catalogue of human benefits.

Nature seems to have made copious use of it herself as a physician, in preparing certain mineral springs, most esteemed for their wholesome properties; and it may safely be said that all the benefit derived from the drinking of the Congress and Saratoga waters in this country, the Salts of Piedmont, King's Well, at Bath, &c., is owing to the Iodine they contain.

This principle, which was unknown until 1812, we find now recorded as a standard remedy, with the testimony of eminent physicians in every part of the world.

Dr. Cogswell, of Edinburgh, remarks: "As Iodine acts as powerfully on the digestive tube, it should also affect the urinary organs, many of the members decidedly experienced these secondary effects. Moreover, since Iodine acts not only upon the surface of the intestines, but also on that of the parts which open into them, on the glands of the mouth and stomach, it should increase the salivary, gastric, pancreatic and biliary secretions. It must, therefore, modify in a high degree the processes of assimilation and nutrition if properly employed. Should we not expect the best effects from it in diseases of the viscera, depending upon weakness and a congested state of these organs, in scrofula and similar affections?"

Dr. Alex. Manson, of Nottingham, England, in his interesting and highly instructive work on the effects of Iodine, uses this language: "It possesses powers in the cure of many obstinate diseases over which other remedies have little or no influence. I have recommended, not from caprice or fondness of novelty, but because I have found the treatment by Iodine much more efficacious than any other method with which I am acquainted in the following diseases, viz.: Bronchochele, or Goitre, Paralysis, Chorea, or St. Vitus' Dance, Scrofula, Scrofulous Opthalmia, Deafness, Dysphagia, White Swellings, and Distortions of the Spine. * * * I must say that I am not without hope that in Iodine we possess a remedy that bids fairer than any other to prevent the formation of tubercles, (in the lungs,) or to dissipate them in their incipient state."

It has been proved by Dr. Buchanan, of Glasgow, Cantu and others, that Iodine enters into a number of the secretions; and it has been detected in the urine, sweat, milk and blood, but it does not accumulate in the system, as was proven by Drs. Manson, Becquerel and Dalton.

Iodine has the power of dissolving Mercury and Lead, and the presence of organic matter does not prevent these changes. It dissolves metallic mercury, and all the mercurial compounds which can possibly occur in the living body. Melsens is of the opinion that Iodine acts curatively in these cases, by dissolving the fixed union existing between the metal and the organic tissues, and by forming a soluble compound, which passes off by the kidneys. Dr. Seguin, a French physician, praises its effects in obstinate intermittents, which have resisted quinine. Dr. Lugol mentions instances, among his scofulous patients, in which it cured obstructed and painful menstruations. It has been affirmed in the London Lancet that, in cases of suppressed measles and scarlatina, it will frequently induce a healthy reaction under the most desperate circumstances.

The use of Iodine in Neuralgia has been of the utmost benefit. A patient, whose life had been embittered for five years with neuropathic maladies, and who suffered at the time from a very painful affection of the head and neck, with occasional and frequent pain of the arms and legs, was speedily relieved, and within six weeks completely cured, after arsenic, mercury, and most of the narcotics, had been prescribed in vain. In different forms of rheumatism, Iodine has been given with the greatest success. When rheumatism assumes a chronic form, or if there should exist a strenuous or syphilitic taint, no remedy is equal to Iodine. In glandular enlargements and morbid growth, the power of Iodine is highly esteemed. In induration, or enlargement of the Liver or Spleen, where mercury has failed or is inadmissible, Iodine forms the best recourse.

Dr. Horace Green, President of the New-York Medical College, observes:

"An increased nutrition of the body, or embonpoint, is the frequent result of the employment of Iodine; the patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid." He further says: "In the administration of Iodine in follicular diseases, I have found, almost invariably, a specific effect produced upon the organs of secretion by the use of the medicine, and equally salutary are the effects produced, ordinarily, in the digestive organs."

The tonic operation of Iodine is evinced by its strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite, which are among the most constant effects of its use.

The great objection to the use of Iodine as a medicine hitherto has been its supposed insolubility in water, and of the necessity of administering it in combination with some other substances, calculated either to neutralize the wholesome effects of the prescription or to do an unexpected mischief; there seemed to be no way of introducing pure Iodine into the system, and thus realizing all the benefits of which its use might be susceptible, until Dr. Henry Anders, a Chemist and Physician of this City, discovered the extraordinary secret of dissolving Iodine in pure water. (See Certificates.)

It is in Scrofulous diseases that the most interesting results have been accomplished by the use of Iodine. We are indebted to the eminent Dr. Lugol, of Paris, for the most extended and valuable researches in the use of Iodine in the different forms of Scrofula. This physician began a systematic course of treatment with this remedy in the St. Louis Hospital, Paris, in 1827. He made known his results in three memoirs, published in 1829, '30, '31, in which he infers that the most astonishing results might be anticipated, if Iodine could be dissolved in pure water.

These memoirs give the details of a success which would stagger belief, were not the results substantiated by Committees of distinguished physicians of the French Royal Academy of Sciences. The most happy results are also recorded of the treatment of Rheumatism, both chronic and acute; and in Syphilis, where the distress and agony were almost unendurable, the patient has been relieved in an exceedingly short time. Many cases of White Swelling have been cured, and in some, where much disorganization had occurred, and the loss of a whole limb was apprehended, yet the use of Iodine arrested the destructive process, and the limbs were preserved.

Consumption, or phthisis pulmonalis, is generally considered as closely allied to Scrofula. In fact it is often called "Scrofula of the lungs." In scrofulous families, members, especially children, die from disease in the chest, and reciprocally in families affected with pulmonary tubercles, the children die of scrofulous disease. In common terms a family is scrofulous when scrofulous diseases cause a greater mortality than pulmonary tubercles; and it is tuberculous when tuberculization of the lungs cuts off a larger number than other scrofulous diseases. These tubercles are a production of the same character, and require the same course of treatment for their successful eradication. It is a well-demonstrated fact that consumption has been and CAN BE CURED when taken in the primary stages, and, although it is impossible to cure it in its last stage, great alleviation of distress and of oppression in the chest has resulted from the use of Iodine Water.

The evidence of the success of this medicine, and the facts enumerated above, we will be pleased to show to any one who will call at our office.

Physicians and Chemists,

TESTIMONIALS.

Certificate of Dr. James R. Chilton, the celebrated Chemist, after analyzing Anders' Iodine Water:

I have analyzed the Iodine Water prepared by Dr. Anders, and find it to be a solution of pure Iodine in water. It has long been a desideratum to prepare Iodine so that it can be administered in its uncombined state; this preparation by Dr. Anders enables us to effect that object. Each fluid ounce of the Water contains about half a grain of Iodine. I consider it a valuable preparation, and one which will prove serviceable in all those cases where the use of Iodine is indicated.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.

Certificate from Prof. James C. Booth, United States Mint, Philadelphia.

Dr. HENRY ANDERS: The sample of Iodine Water tested by me I find to be Iodine dissolved in pure water.
Respectfully yours, JAMES C. BOOTH.

To these may be added the remarks of the American Medical Monthly, edited by Edward H. Parker, A. M., M. D.:

IODINE WATER—Samples of a preparation with this name have been sent to us by Dr. Anders, of this City, by whom it is prepared. Chemists generally state that Iodine can be dissolved in water, but that the solution is a very weak one, containing, in fact, 1-7,000 part of Iodine by weight. Dr. Anders states that this is only a simple solution in Croton water, and may be made as strong as three-fourths of a grain to the ounce. The preparation is a decidedly brown fluid, with a strong smell and taste of Iodine. When allowed to stand in an open vessel the color and taste both disappear, the remainder being simply limpid water. We have seen a copy of the report of an analysis made by Dr. Chilton, in which he states that he finds it "to be a solution of pure Iodine in water." It is a question of interest, by no means unworthy of investigation, what may be the therapeutical value of this preparation. If we can in this way introduce pure Iodine into the system, without combination with any other substance, important results may follow. Practitioners should remember this solution when prescribing Iodine.

Other testimonials may be seen at our office.
